SAANICH EXHIBITION EARNS PRAISE OF PREMIER OLIVER

Largest Collection of Exhibits Ever Held at Saanichton Opened by Hon. John Oliver This Afternoon; Prize Awards Announced

The fifty-eighth annual exhibition of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society at Saanichton was formally opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon by the Hon. John Oliver. After a tour around the Agricultural Hall and a careful examination of the unusually large number of entries, Premier Oliver was conducted by pipers to the open-air dancing platform and introduced to the large audience by President H. E. Tanner.

The Premier congratulated the association on the gro[illegible] popularity of its yearly exhibition, as evidenced by the annual increase in the number of exhibits. He considered the fine display of soil products evidence of the fertility of Saanich and the skill of its farmers, while the unusually large entry in all classes of women's work also attracted comment on the variety and excellence of the exhibits. The Premier also remarked on the number and quality of the livestock poultry and rabbit entries.

The annual school sports proved a great attraction, the grounds being enlivened by the activities of hundreds of children. The Highland dancing competitions proved of interest to large crowds, and the judging of the cattle and horses was a feature of the afternoon programme.

SIX MONTHS' SALES PASS MILLION MARK

Victoria Real Estate Men Get Encouraging Reports; Sales in August $232,817

S. J. Drake Tells Realtors Value of Supporting and Encouraging Home Industries

During the month of August twenty-two real estate firms of Victoria, all of which are members of the Real Estate Board, report a total turnover of property here amounting to $232,817.

For the six months past, up to the end of August, the total land and property sales here were $1,215,645. These figures brought forth a hearty voice of approval from the members of the Victoria Real Estate Board when they were officially announced to-day at the body's regular meeting.

Itemized the property sales of the twenty-two firms through August were as follows: Dwellings, $84,485; residential lots, $68,297; acreage, $22,810; business property, $57,225.

These figures compare very favorably to those of the last few months and are maintaining the high average set by local real estate firms recently. They indicate the continued revival of business here and the generally brighter prospects, say members of the Real Estate Board.

MUNICIPAL LEVIES MAY INCREASE COST OF P.G.E. RAILWAY

But Directors Object to Paying Taxation to North Shore Authorities

North Shore municipalities threaten to add further burdens to the present cost of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway by taxing the line's holdings within their boundaries.

This move on the part of the municipal authorities is being investigated now by directors of the line and their legal advisers. Legal experts will render a judgment on the point shortly.

A LEGAL QUESTION

The municipalities' claim is that the P.G.E., not being a department of the Government, but a private company, is subject to municipal levies. This is the legal point which experts are investigating.

The P.G.E. directorate is strongly opposed to the payment of the taxes involved. It contends that the sections of the railway operating on the North Shore are being maintained in active service purely for the advantage of the residents there. Under the circumstances, it sees scant justification for increasing the cost of the railway to the taxpayers at large by forcing the line to pay municipal taxation.

If the railway were merely a part of the Government, instead of being a company owned by the Government, the municipalities would be unable to collect taxes from it, directors explain. It is thought the difficulty could be overcome by special legislation.

Spaniard Lost Life Swimming in English Channel

Boulogne, France, Sept. 29—The first tragedy due to ambition to swim the English Channel was recorded here to-day when the body of a young Spaniard was washed ashore. The body was identified as that of Luis de Lara, who is said to have been a member of a prominent Madrid family. De Lara started secretly and without an escort in an attempt to swim the Channel from France to England a few days ago.

THIS IS ZERO HOUR IN GREAT DRIVE ON B.C. TAX EVADERS

Taxation Department Prepares For Prosecution of Delinquents All Over Province

British Columbia taxpayers who had failed to-day to submit taxation returns to the Provincial Government will be haled into court in all assessment districts of the Province during the next few days in the Taxation Department's campaign to force observance of its regulations.

September 29 was fixed by the department as the last day for the submission of these returns, most of which were due last Spring. After to-day, active legal proceedings will get under way to force delinquents to file their returns.

FOR FALSE RETURNS

This drive will be directed not only against those who have failed to submit returns but also those who have submitted false returns.

Despite hurried last-minute efforts on the part of delinquents to file their returns many are still outstanding and prosecutions will proceed as planned. Lists of delinquents have been compiled by assessors in all districts in preparation for the drive which will be carried into police courts immediately.

TWO MEXICANS LOST LIVES DURING STORM

No Foreigners Killed in Hurricane Which Swept Vera Cruz Area Yesterday

Vera Cruz, Sept. 29.—A staff correspondent of the Associated Press, who arrived in Vera Cruz to-day, found the city had not been as severely damaged by yesterday's hurricane as was indicated in some of the first reports.

No foreigners were killed or injured. The total of casualties thus far reported was the drowning of two Mexicans.

In the business section the only damage was the unroofing of some buildings, the breaking of windows and the flooding of the first floors.

In some of the low sections the streets were still covered with water.

Many banana plantations in the surrounding country were hard hit by the storm.

CHAMBERLAIN AND MUSSOLINI TO HOLD CONFERENCE IN ITALY

SIR AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN

PREMIER MUSSOLINI

London, Sept. 29.—A meeting between Premier Mussolini of Italy and Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, probably will be held to-morrow at some port on the west coast of Italy within a reasonable distance of Rome, it was stated in official quarters here to-day.

The subject of the meeting, which was arranged at Mussolini's invitation, has not been made public.

LEAGUE OFFICIALS INTERESTED

Geneva, Sept. 29.—The forthcoming conference between Sir Austen Chamberlain and Premier Mussolini is attracting interest in League of Nations circles, where it is believed the British and Italian statesmen are certain to discuss the Abyssinia and Tangier problems.

It is known the Abyssinian question was "settled out of court," Britain and Italy prevailing upon Abyssinia not to appeal further to the League against alleged pressure for the granting of concessions in Abyssinian territory.

ASSURANCES DESIRED

Premier Mussolini is believed to desire assurances that Germany as a member of the League will not be permitted to reopen questions settled by treaty, including especially the cession of Southern Tyrol to Italy by Austria, as well as assurances that Italy's demands for an outlet for her surplus population will not be forgotten in any of the plans to allocate colonies to Germany.

FRANCO-GERMAN CONVERSATIONS

Finally, Italy, realizing Britain is being kept informed of the negotiations for a "broad" Franco-German accord begun at Thiery, is believed to be anxious to prevent elaboration of a virtual tri-partite pact, which would leave Italy out of consideration.

Italians here insist their country, as a matter of prestige, must be reckoned with in all important European agreements because Italy, like Britain, is a guarantor of the peace of Europe under the Locarno Pact.

MEIGHEN ASKED TO LEAD B.C. PARTY

Prominent Conservatives Suggest He be Their Chief if He Comes to Coast

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—The Vancouver Daily Province published the following in its news columns to-day:

"Following the announcement that Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, upon his retirement from the arena of Federal politics, might come to live in British Columbia, local Conservatives are discussing the possibility of his accepting the leadership of the party in this Province. It is an idea that is meeting with enthusiastic reception among leaders of the party, who say British Columbia demonstrated in no uncertain terms her faith in the man and his policies, and now a further demonstration of regard from British Columbia Conservatives in the form of the highest gift in their power is considered to be most appropriate in the event of his becoming a resident of the Province.

QUESTION OF UNITY

"It is also argued Mr. Meighen's entry into the public life of one of the Dominion's most richly endowed provinces would be in the nature of a national advantage, for, being possessed of a grasp upon conditions from Victoria to Halifax, his influence would be of paramount value in bringing about a closer unity between East and West and a better understanding between the different portions of Canada.

"It is known R. H. Pooley, Conservative leader in the Legislature, would welcome such a move, while others who have been mentioned as possible aspirants for the leadership, it is believed, would be a unit in resigning their own claims for consideration in favor of a unanimous offer of the honor to Mr. Meighen.

TWIGG'S ATTITUDE

"H. D. Twigg, M.P.P., the only Conservative member of the Legislature who could be reached by long distance telephone to-day, stated that in his opinion the Conservative members of the Legislature would be unanimous, as would Conservatives generally throughout the Province, in welcoming Mr. Meighen to the public life of British Columbia.

"'It would be a wonderful thing for the Province,' he said, 'to acquire the services of such a statesman as Mr. Meighen. The leadership of the party

DEMONSTRATION OF PUBLIC SYMPATHY AT BRIDE'S BURIAL

Citizens Place Floral Tributes on Grave of Mrs. James Bonner

Striking demonstrations of popular sympathy marked the funeral this afternoon of Mrs. James Bonner, nee Mary W. Scoular, the young Victoria bride who met such a tragic death two hours after her wedding in Vancouver last Saturday.

Accompanied by her grief-stricken relatives, the remains arrived in the city this morning from Vancouver and were conveyed to the Sands Funeral Chapel. From an early hour many friends of the family, as well as members of the public desirous of showing their sympathy, visited the mortuary. Many beautiful floral tributes attested to the widespread grief aroused by the tragedy.

SPECIAL CARS CARRY FLOWERS

Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson conducted the impressive service at 3.30 this afternoon in the presence of many mourners. Special cars were needed to carry the many flowers to the graveside at Royal Oak Burial Park. The pallbearers were James Reiner, Thomas Macdonald and Thos. McCaig of Victoria, and F. Welsh, R. Robertson and J. Sutherland of Vancouver.

CROWD AT FUNERAL PARLOR

Before the body was brought to Victoria on the midnight boat a funeral service was held at Kearney's funeral parlor on Broadway. The parlor was packed with people who were stirred by the tragedy in which the bride lost her life on her wedding day. A solemn procession of mourners passed the bier, consisting not only of relatives and friends but of those whose sympathies had been aroused by the extreme sadness of the affair. The numbers were so large that all were unable to obtain admittance to the parlor at one time.

HEARTBROKEN BRIDEGROOM

James Bonner, the young bridegroom, was visibly affected at the spontaneous outburst of sympathy which was demonstrated by scores of beautiful floral tributes which banked the bier of his young bride.

The father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Scoular, Mr. J. Bonner, the bereaved bridegroom; Mrs. A. Bonner, mother of the bridegroom; Mr. Tom Bonner, brother, and Mrs. Bonner accompanied the body to Victoria.

RANCHER DENIES HE KILLED NEIGHBOR

A. Kosti Says M. Orioli Shot By Unknown Man Near Quesnel

Quesnel, Sept. 29.—After warning Morice Orioli, his sixty-five-year-old neighbor, with whom he was not on good terms, to keep away from his cabin when he saw him approaching last Sunday, Aaron Kosti, forty, fired a shot to frighten the older man, according to his alleged confession made to provincial police in the jail here to-day.

Kostin has been charged with having murdered Orioli, for whose body a search is now being made in the district ten miles north of here in which the adjoining homesteads are situated.

Although admitting he fired towards Orioli, Kosti states, according to the authorities, that he aimed above him, and that even if he had been hit he would not have been fatally injured, as the cartridges were not filled with shot, but with balls.

Kosti still maintains Orioli was killed by some person who fired at him from ambush and later removed his body from the spot where it had fallen, and which was marked by a pool of blood.

The assemblages were broken up by the police. The association has a membership of 400,000.

MAJ.-GEN. A. D. McRAE TO APPEAL AWARD BY JURY IN NANAIMO OF $40,000 TO HON. WILLIAM SLOAN

Hon. William Sloan, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Mines, in Nanaimo last night, was awarded $40,000 against Major-General A. D. McRae by the jury which had heard the suit in which he claimed damages for libel, and to-day in Vancouver L. G. McPhillips, K.C., announced he would appeal the decision at once, having been instructed to do so by Gen. McRae.

Thus it is indicated that what is said to be the largest award in any case of the same kind in the history of British Columbia is to be carried farther in the courts.

DECISION BY JURY

Nanaimo, B.C., Sept. 29—A special jury in the assize court here last evening awarded Hon. William Sloan, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Mines of British Columbia, plaintiff in a libel action against Major-General A. D. McRae, $40,000 damages.

Mr. Sloan sought $50,000 damages from the former leader of the Provincial Party on the ground he had been libelled in an article that appeared in The Searchlight, an election publication issued during the Provincial general election campaign in January, 1921, under the heading, "A Petition for a Royal Commission." In effect the article complained of stated that in 1915 and 1916, when the affairs of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Company had become seriously involved, a sum of $50,000 had been paid by the company to the plaintiff for protection and favorable treatment from the Liberal Party.

ADDRESSES TO JURY

The whole of yesterday afternoon's session of the court was devoted to addresses to the jury by A. H. MacNeill, chief counsel for General McRae; J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., chief counsel for Mr. Sloan, and Mr. Justice Murphy.

It had been claimed by the defence, and their principal line of defence was that while the statements had been printed, as alleged, General Mc-

McRae Statement Made by Counsel

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—The Vancouver Evening Sun to-day published the following:

"L. G. McPhillips, K.C., seen at the office of A. H. MacNeill, K.C., counsel for Major-General A. D. McRae, this morning after their return from Nanaimo, on being asked for an explanation as to the verdict for $40,000 given by the jury in Nanaimo yesterday in favor of Hon. William Sloan, stated that in part it could be considered as an expression of resentment by the Nanaimo residents toward what they considered an invasion of their franchise to hold the right of being the jurors for the entire county.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

"While General McRae freely accepted responsibility for anything that appeared in The Searchlight," said Mr. McPhillips, "it was shown clearly that the only real connection General McRae personally had with the matter was the fact that he was, as chairman of the Provincial Party organization, ex-officio a member of each committee.

"He had no part whatever in either the preparation, printing, publishing or circulation of that issue of The Searchlight or of the petition for a royal commission.

"In view of the fact that I, as counsel, feel the jurors considered irrelevant matters and did not base their conclusion upon the evidence, and that the amount is grossly excessive and perverse, I am launching an appeal forthwith on the instructions of my client."

BANK CLERK ACCUSED OF STEALING $32,292

H. J. McNeil in Jail in Galt, Ontario; Money Quickly Recovered by Police

Galt, Ont., Sept. 29.—Harvey J. McNeil, twenty- ledgerkeeper in the Bank of Montreal branch here, was arrested following the discovery this morning that more than $32,000 had been stolen from the bank. He appeared in police court and was remanded till next Tuesday.

McNeil, whose home is in Regina, Sask., is alleged to have opened the safe, taken the money and jumped aboard a freight train. About a mile west of the town, he is said to have buried the money and returned to the bank.

More than $30,000 was recovered by the police, who claim McNeil confessed and returned the money.

ARREST SOON MADE

McNeil was arrested soon after the robbery was reported.

The amount taken from the safe was $32,292. With the exception of two small cheques, one for $5 and the other for $30, the entire amount was recovered.

The boys escaped.

ENTOMBED MINERS ARE FOUND ALIVE

Message From Forty-three Men in Michigan Pit For Five Days

Ironwood, Mich., Sept. 29—Communication was established to-day with the forty-three miners entombed for more than five days in the Pabst Company's iron mine here and all were found to be alive.

The men were entombed by a cave-in in the main shaft last Friday.

Ironwood, Mich., Sept. 29—The fate of forty-three men entombed since last Friday in the Pabst Mine of the Oliver Iron Mining Company here may become known to-day.

The possibility that one of the efforts to pierce the barrier of rock and earth in the shaft to the eighth level, where the men are imprisoned 880 feet under ground, might be crowned with success to-day, did not deter men engaged in three other rescue attempts, however.

To-day's hope was from the bottom of the shaft, clogged midway by the cave-in. Entrance to the lower levels of the mine is gained by connections from the shaft of an adjoining mine. Working upward, rescuers had penetrated the twentieth level after several days of hazardous efforts.

TO USE LADDERS

Completion of timbering will permit easy egress to ladders of the shaft, which were intact to-day, giving hope the rescuers might climb up to or nearly to the eighth level, where forty of the men are believed to be. The shaft is clogged from the second level, 327 feet below the surface, to a point somewhere between the eighth and twentieth levels.

THREE KILLED

In the cave-in last Friday three men were killed. The bodies were recovered.

PRACTICAL PLAN FOR PORT DEVELOPMENT PLACED BEFORE CITY COUNCIL THIS MORNING

Roger Pinneo, Personal Assistant to H. F. Alexander, President of Pacific Steamship Line, Makes Great Impression in Brief Talk to Joint Session of the Chamber of Commerce and City Council Heads

Overwhelming support for what is hailed as the first practical effort to develop Victoria from within was accorded this morning to the proposal that an immediate survey be made of port facilities and opportunities for new business.

The proposal was advanced by a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce, representative of manufacturers, industrialists, transportation leaders and other big business interests of the city, to the City Council.

EXPERT CREATES IMPRESSION

Roger Pinneo, personal assistant to H. F. Alexander, president of the Pacific Steamship Company, and one of the most noted practical experts in port development on the Pacific Coast, was introduced to the meeting. Mr. Pinneo, whose services have been made available to Victoria through the courtesy of Mr. Alexander, made a profound impression with his clear-cut plan of action.

This, briefly, was that an immediate survey be made of the existing facilities of the port of Victoria with the object of creating new tonnage for local docks. Victoria, he said, was tributary to an immense field in which export movements could be encouraged to use the port of Victoria, and shippers shown actual gains to be made by swinging their business here. Fish, lumber, grain and a host of allied industries were carried on within easy shipping reach of the port, and as yet no advantage had been taken of that fact. If Victoria wanted business it had first to see what it could offer, and then to go after the industries it needed with these facts in hand.

COMPLETE SURVEY

To do this intelligently a complete survey into all trade movements, rates and opportunities would be necessary, he continued. The West Coast fisheries, Island lumber mills, prairie grain movements, and all lines of allied industry would have to be thoroughly investigated to see in what particular direction lay the growth of this city as an export port. If transportation interests could be encouraged to swing their business this way the rest would follow, he said, and payrolls would follow. It rested with the city to discover and make known its advantages, and these could be sold on a dollar and cents basis to monied interests which were ever ready to seize on a clear commercial gain.

At the close of a session in which the fullest support was accorded to the project, provision was made for a special council session to sit Friday at 2 p.m. From the overwhelming encouragement given to the plan to-day it appears likely that council ratification will follow on Friday, with the appointment of Mr. Pinneo for an immediate start on the work.

HELPED MANY PORTS

The conference to-day is the outgrowth of negotiations carried on by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce with H. F. Alexander, who consented to release Mr. Pinneo for a short period to enable him to survey port development here, if his services are required. Mr. Pinneo for the last ten years has been a leading authority on port development, and is the practical consultant expert called in by San Francisco, Seattle, Portland and Pacific Coast centres on their transportation problems.

RECESS CALLED IN McPHERSON TRIAL

Los Angeles Court Pauses When Evangelist's Mother Seems Near Collapse

Hall of Justice, Los Angeles, Sept. 29.—A recess was ordered in the Aimee Semple McPherson hearing here to-day when Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of the evangelist, appeared on the verge of collapse. Mrs. Kennedy, pale and stumbling, was led from the courtroom by Mrs. McPherson and Attorney Arthur Veach. She was taken into the judge's chambers, the door to which was closed and locked.

A transcript of Mrs. McPherson's testimony before the grand jury was being read when Attorney Gilbert rose suddenly and asked for a recess. Judge Blake ordered a five-minute intermission, but at the expiration of that time he adjourned court until 2 o'clock when it became apparent Mrs. Kennedy could not return at once.

Los Angeles, Sept. 29.—The pulsating court drama in which Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, is playing the star role was rapidly approaching the zenith of interest to-day as the state made preparations to turn loose its heaviest artillery in an attempt to blast out of the realm of mystery the strange disappearance case of the Angelus Temple pastor.

CONVERSATIONS REPEATED

The first direct attempt to link the woman pastor with the alleged plot to clear herself of the "Miss X" stigma was made at her preliminary hearing on conspiracy charges late yesterday, with the introduction of stenographic records of conversations between Howard C. Benedict and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff. Benedict is the owner of the cottage at Carmel-by-the-Sea where Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio oper-

REALTORS URGE APPOINTMENT OF HARBOR EXPERT

Victoria Real Estate Men Unanimously Supports Port Development Plan

The Victoria Real Estate Board went on record to-day as favoring the immediate appointment of Roger Pinneo, port development expert, and internationally recognized figure, by the City Council, to assist Victoria's commercial advancement. Following a short address from C. P. W. Schwengers, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who urged this action upon the body, the board went on record as unanimously supporting the scheme.

In order to secure some substantial port development for the City of Victoria, the Victoria Chamber of Commerce has been endeavoring to induce capital and commerce to come to and through this city for the last five years, said Mr. Schwengers.

Mr. Schwengers asserted that despite the work that had been done by the Chamber to bring the Port of Victoria to the fore as a commerce route and centre for grain elevators, little had been accomplished.

LUMBER OPERATORS MUST PAY NEW WAGE GOVERNMENT RULES

Cabinet Has no Power to Interfere With Administrative Board's Order

There can be no interference on the part of the Government with the order of the administrative board in charge of British Columbia's new minimum wage law that the lumber industry must pay a minimum wage of forty cents an hour from November 1 on.

HAS NO POWER

The Cabinet finally decided at a meeting to-day that it had no power to interfere with the board's order fixing this minimum. The formal regulation will be promulgated accordingly and enforced at November 1.

The Cabinet's decision followed vigorous protests from the lumber industry which asserts that the board's order will be ruinous to it. The board believes the industry can pay the scale, basing its view on lengthy investigations.

Tagore Believes Western Civilization Is Now Crumbling

Berlin, Sept. 29—Sir Rabindranath Tagore, sixty-six-year-old Indian poet and philosopher, who is here on a tour of Europe, is convinced Western Christian civilization is crumbling.

"You westerners, who possess all material wealth, are starving yourselves intellectually," he said. "We who have nothing believe we have sensed the mysteries of the Infinite. You think you can struggle along with courts of arbitration, but you tolerate peace only because you realize war is bad business. There can be no lasting peace unless you strive to work for the good of all mankind."

The brilliant colorings and picturesque scenes of the countries bordering the Mediterranean have long exercised a fascination for artists, but seldom have they been expressed with greater fidelity than by Trevor Haddon, R.B.A., the noted British artist, who arrived from London a few weeks ago and is making an extended stay in this city.

Mr. Haddon is giving a free exhibition of his pictures extending over a period of three months, and for the purpose has taken the studio at 202 Union Bank Building, formerly occupied by the Island Arts and Crafts Society. Here he will open on Friday of this week an exhibition of his oil and water-color paintings of Spain and Morocco, and all who appreciate the best in art will find it exemplified in delightful measure.

Virility and versatility are characteristics of the artist and his pictures are full of life and color. Against the quiet repose of Moorish palaces bathed in sunlight he introduces figures of camels and beggars, mules and passers-by brimful of movement. Or in his charming studies of old Spain and Portugal, mantilla-ed beauties and graceful dancers act as a foil to the background of graceful facade and sun-dappled courtyard.

The old city of Gerona, Seville, Cordova, Toledo and other cities of the Iberean Peninsula with their architectural beauties are represented in the colection, together with exquisite bits of Morocco, including scenes in Tangier and Fez, while Cairo and Jerusalem are also represented. There are seventy pictures in the collection and a visit to the exhibition will go far to compensate those who are unable to travel and visit these scenes in person.

So successful has been Mr. Haddon in portraying the architecture and life of Spain that he was commissioned to make the illustrations for Calvert's well-known book, "Travels in Southern Spain," and more recently executed the illustrations for Arnold Bennett's series of articles on Spain, written for The Daily Express, London.

Mr. Haddon is a member of the Royal Society of British Artists. In 1883 he obtained the Slade scholarship for three years under Professor Legros, and in 1885 the Medal for Painting from Life and the Landscape prize. In 1892 he was elected a Fellow of the Herkomer School, and it is interesting to note that he later painted a portrait of Sir Hubert von Herkomer, R.A., which was exhibited at the Fine Arts' Societies' galleries in London, and afterwards at Munich by invitation.

He has painted many presentation portraits of public men in Great Britain and abroad, and in 1910 exhibited 100 pastel portraits of his fellow-members of the Savage Club.

Mr. Haddon's pictures of Spain and Morocco will be on view for the whole of October. In November he will show pictures of Venice, and in December will exhibit a miscellaneous collection.

FLOODS IN JUGOSLAVIA

Vienna, Sept. 29.—A phenomenal rainfall has caused devastating floods in the region of Laibach, Jugoslavia. The material damage up to the present is said to be considerable, but no casualties have been reported.

POLAND TO HAVE ELECTION IN JANUARY

Warsaw, Poland, Sept. 29.—The conflict between the Government and the Diet has developed into a phase indicating the final battle between the executive and legislative powers will take place at the next sitting of the Diet, which will be ended by dissolution of the Houses and a general election in January, 1927.

It was hoped the present conflict would be eased by approval by the Senate yesterday of credits of $54,000,000 for the last quarter of 1926, previously approved by the House, but the Senate reduced the credits to $50,000,000 and in consequence the House will meet to-morrow to discuss this reduction.

NANAIMO JURY DECIDES $40,000 DAMAGES FOR LIBEL TO BE PAID TO HON. W. SLOAN BY MAJ.-GEN. McRAE

Rae was not directly responsible for them. It had been shown he had contributed the sum of $40,000 for the election campaign of the Provincial Party, and the plaintiffs alleged that sum included the financing of The Searchlight.

DECLARED RESPONSIBLE

In addressing the jury, Mr. Farris said: "General McRae was a general in France. He did not once put the cartridge in the cannon, nor did he once pull the string that fired it, but the results of each shot were attributed to him, and he was responsible for all shots fired under his command. The same thing applies in the present case. He was general in command of the campaign and anything which The Searchlight fired, he was responsible for."

MALICE DENIED

For the defence, Mr. MacNeill insisted no malice had been shown. He said 'The Searchlight had merely published statements which General McRae believed at the time to be correct.

JUDGE'S ADDRESS

The judge, addressing the jury, spoke for forty minutes. He pointed out two lines of defence had been eliminated, namely, justification, which had been abandoned, and privilege, which he himself had ruled against. This left, therefore, only one line to be explained to the jury, that of fair comment. He dwelt at length on this angle of the case, and the jury was sent to its room to consider whether or not the comment of The Searchlight had been fair, and if not, what damage had been caused.

The amount claimed by the plaintiff was $50,000, but the jurors cut the sum by $10,000, and decided General McRae should pay to Hon. William Sloan the sum of $40,000.

Following the verdict, Mr. MacNeill, for General McRae, stated it was too soon to say whether or not an appeal would be taken. General McRae stated he had no remarks to make.

The award is said to be the largest ever made in any similar case in the history of the British Columbia courts.

The jurors deliberated for one hour.

A. ANDERSON TESTIFIED

Testifying at the session of the court yesterday forenoon, Ashworth Anderson said he had been first vice-president and chairman of the finance committee of the Provincial Party. The party convention had been held December 4, 5 and 6, 1923, he testified. The petition for a royal commission had been put to that meeting by Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper and and unanimously carried by 322 delegates. The petition had been sent to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council To his knowledge Gen. McRae had had nothing to do with the preparation of the petition.

The petition had been published in The Searchlight, December 14, 1923. It had also appeared in The Vancouver Province and The Vancouver World on December 7, 1923. John Nelson had been in charge of the publication of The Searchlight.

The petition had been read to the convention by Sir Charles Tupper. At the convention funds had been solicited and $30,000 had been subscribed. The general had not subscribed a dollar to the publication of The Searchlight in question. The meeting thought he had contributed enough.

GEN. McRAE ON STAND

Taking the stand, Gen. McRae testified Sir Charles had told him that on a visit to Victoria he had seen R. T. Elliott, who stated moneys had been paid Mr. Sloan. Sir Charles, stated Gen. McRae, was for many years a member of Parliament and Minister of Justice. The petition had been signed by E. P. Davis, K.C., L. G. McPhillips, K.C., and A. H. MacNeill, K.C., in addition to Sir Charles as members of the executive.

Witness stated he had nothing to do with the preparation of the petition.

Before the royal commission, Mr. Elliott had claimed privilege on the ground he was solicitor for Foley, Welch and Stewart, and Gen. Stewart also had claimed this privilege.

Witness stated he had not been allowed to tell what he knew of the matter before the royal commission.

He had met Mr. Sloan once or twice. He had never had any difficulty with him and had no malice or animosity toward the plaintiff.

The witness said he had never charged Mr. Sloan had got the money personally. He held it was campaign contributions.

EVIDENCE READ

From the transcript of Gen. Stewart's evidence before Commissioner Galliher in the Winter of 1924, Mr. Farris read statements of Gen. Stewart, who denied there was any truth in the charges made by The Searchlight. Gen. Stewart stated there was no truth in the charge money had been paid to Mr. Sloan.

The witness said he had understood Mr. Sloan and Mr. Bowser also on the witness stand at the inquiry had denied the truth of the charges contained in the petition.

To Mr Farris the witness said he had criticized the commission on the ground that it was not fair. He agreed that the commission had vindicated the Government and Mr. Sloan.

CHARGES FAILED

Mr. Farris read from the commissioner's report that there was no evidence to support the charges, which necessarily failed. Mr. Farris read from The Searchlight a statement that the many unfair rulings of the commissioner had prevented counsel for the Provincial Party proving the charges.

"I never attempted to dodge any responsibility attached to me as president ex-officio of committees of which I had nothing to do," said the witness.

Mr. Farris—two weeks after your election for Vancouver North your counsel says you did not intend to prove the truth of this charge.

General McRae — I will be very frank in saying I had no information about it from the beginning.

NEWSPAPER REPORTS

Touching on politics, Mr. Farris said:

"I see you are mooted as leader of the Conservative Party."

"I can not be responsible for what is put in the papers," replied Gen. McRae.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

Questioned about the cost incurred in the provincial election in 1924, the witness said he had paid about $50,000 before the election and had chipped in $25,000 after the election towards campaign expenses.

GREAT INTEREST

The trial created a great deal of interest here. The limited seating accommodation of the assize court room, with its stained-glass windows and churchlike appearance, was filled to capacity. Although the plaintiff was not a witness he continued throughout alongside his counsel, J. W. deB. Farris, K.C.

Interested spectators included L. G. McPhillips, K.C., and A. M. Johnson, K.C., prosecuting counsel in two criminal cases on the assize court docket.

FLOOD LOSSES IN SOUTHWESTERN U.S.

Bridges in Arizona and New Mexico Swept Away; Traffic is Delayed

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 29.—Reports from scores of Southern Arizona and northern New Mexico points to-day indicated the damage wrought by heavy rains over the week-end was considerably greater than was first indicated. Scores of bridges were swept away and rail and motor traffic still is paralyzed between Tucson and points to the southeast. Five Southern Pacific trains, carrying 600 passengers, were detained in Tucson yesterday. Shortly after noon today eastbound trains were started out of Tucson, routed through Phoenix and over the Santa Fe lines to El Paso.

Two Southern Pacific bridges collapsed yesterday, one at Benson and the other at Fairbanks, Ariz.

Train service on the Southern Pacific of Mexico between Nogales, Sonora and Guaymas is at a standstill following the destruction by torrential streams of three bridges. Branch lines also are suffering.

Concrete highway bridges paid their toll to the storm, several being washed away and others made unfit for use.

WRITER DECLARES CANADA DRIFTING

Editor of London Truth Foresees Political Unification of North America

London, Sept. 29 (Canadian Press Cable)—Discussing Canada's political future, the editor of Truth, a London weekly, declares the country's political history is based on tariffs, so it would seem a question whether urban manufacturing interests are to predominate over the interests of the people of the prairies.

"All the Canadian politicians, newspapers, millionaires and professors affirm Canada will never join the United States," writes the editor. "That is why, in my opinion, the thing will happen. A state is never in real danger until its integrity and independence are guaranteed by its neighbors.

"To be sure, all nice people favor English connection. They come to London every year and have many friends here. Some of them even bear English titles. But in a democracy it is not the nice but the nasty people who govern."

FROM UNITED STATES

The writer points to the decrease in the emigration of English and Scottish people to Canada and to the steady inflow of people from the United States. "Big business," he says, offers Canadian commercial men the choice between combination and ruin.

"The demand of the Dominion for separate diplomatic representation at Washington," the editor continues, "may be an ominous portent. I know all this kind of political speculation will be angrily dismissed by certain Canadian publicists and politicians. Nevertheless, facts are facts, one fact being that money in the modern world will have its way in the long run.

"The unification of the North American continent under the Stars and Stripes will not come to-morrow or the day after, and whether when it does come it will be a benefit or a calamity, it is impossible to say."

Brentwood

Brentwood, Sept. 29.—The Mount Newton Social Club held its first meeting for the Winter season in the clubrooms on Monday evening. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Mr. A. Hydes; vice-president, Mr. A. Lacousiere; secretary, Mrs. R. Hall; committee, L. Hagan, E. Gosselin, R. Hall, E. Bougeois, Mrs. A. Lacousiere, Mrs. Buckle, Miss Hagan. After some discussion it was decided to change the card parties from Wednesday to Tuesday nights. The first military five hundred party will be held on Tuesday, October 5, and every second Tuesday following throughout the season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Sibley, from Regina, have arrived to make their home here and have rented Mrs. J. Thomson's house on Merchants Road.

THRESHERS AGAIN AT WORK ON PRAIRIES

Weather Enables Farmers to Resume Operations; Drying Winds Are Welcomed

Winnipeg, Sept. 29—Threshing outfits, rendered inactive for a long period through the vagaries of the weather, are humming again in the prairie grain fields. Operations are reported to be fairly general in the three provinces and only in isolated districts has work been held up owing to rain.

Clear skies, drying winds and cool nights have combined to put the crops in condition for the threshers. It has been estimated by various authorities that between thirty and fifty per cent. of the crop is still uncut or in stook.

SERIOUS INTERRUPTION

Prolonged spells of inclement weather this Fall, bringing heavy rain, sleet and snow, caused one of the most serious interruptions experienced in years by the prairie farmers in garnering their crops. It is reported from several districts that grade values will be materially reduced and an appreciable drop in the estimated yield is now forecast.

STRIKE REGULATIONS CONTINUED IN BRITAIN

London, Sept. 29.—The House of Commons voted yesterday to continue the coal strike emergency powers regulations for another month. The vote was 196 to 99.

The House also voted to adjourn at the end of last night's session until November 9, whereupon Vernon Hartshorn, Laborite and former member of the National executive of the Miners' Federation, took the floor and began anew a discussion of the coal situation.

No new avenues which might lead to a settlement of the long-standing strike were opened, however, and the House adjourned.

Wife Is Happy—Can Sleep Well Now

Mrs. B. Brinkley is happy again. She writes: "For 6 years I suffered from gas on the stomach, headache and dizziness. The first dose of Adlerika gave relief and now I sleep well and all gas is gone."

Many people keep the OUTSIDE body clean but let their INSIDE body stay full of gas and poisons. Give the inside a REAL cleansing with the mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as sold under the name of Adlerika. This acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, eliminates metabolic poisons and removes old matter which you never thought was in your system, and which caused sour stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, etc.

Whenever you eat too much heavy food, let Adlerika REMOVE the undigested surplus and leave you feeling fine. ONE spoonful relieves GAS and takes away that full, bloated feeling. Even if your bowels move every day, Adlerika brings out much additional matter which might cause trouble. Don't waste time with pills or tablets, but let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels QUICK relief.

What Doctors Say

Dr. G. Eggers reports Adlerika is the best medicine he has used in 37 years.

Dr. W. H. Bernhart writes he could not get along in his practice without Adlerika.

Dr. J. J. Weaver, a doctor for 50 years, says he knows no medicine better than Adlerika.

Dr. L. Langlois prescribes Adlerika regularly with GOOD effect.

J. E. Puckett writes: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. AWFUL impurities were eliminated from my system."

Adlerika is a big surprise to people who have used only ordinary bowel and stomach medicines because of its REAL and quick action. Sold by David Spencer Limited. (Advt.)

$60,000,000 CUT IN PUBLIC SALARIES URGED BY ECONOMIST

National Economy Proposals Considered at Citizens' Research Institute Convention

Trend in Western Provinces and Federal Field Running to Lower Per Capita, However

Winnipeg, Sept. 29—Rural credits, the necessity for national economy and tax exempt bonds were the three subjects discussed at to-day's session of the annual convention of the Citizens' Research Institute.

Dr. Horace F. Brittain, director of the Institute, was the speaker at the afternoon session and his address covered the field of national economy and taxation. He outlined various methods by which economy, estimated at $60,000,000 annually, might be effected in the fields of federal, provincial and municipal finances. Among these were proper control of personnel, standardized accounting and supervision of accounting. He advocated the universal adoption of the city manager plan and an extension of that idea to the federal and provincial fields as well.

Dr. Brittain said in part:

"It has been variously stated that at most 'only' ten or fifteen millions could be cut from the ordinary current expenditure of the Dominion by the most drastic methods. The word 'only' is symptomatic of a prevalent state of mind. Fifteen years ago, few would use such a word in referring to such an expenditure."

"In the municipal field, particularly in the West, however, a real beginning seems to have been made in curbing expenditure. The four Western provinces and two Eastern provinces had a lower per capita expenditure in 1924 than in 1923. In Dominion expenditure, the same trend is evident."

Dr. Brittain went on to outline how public money could be saved:

1. By personnel control; a weeding out process with salary increase to faithful and ambitious employees would bring an impressive reduction in the salary and wage bill.

2. Cutting down the number of departments and co-ordinating the work done.

3. Standardization of accounting and administration; which would be easy to effect once inertia and prejudice were overcome.

4. Budgeting capital expenditure over a period of years, which was most essential since each year's capital expense was reflected in every subsequent year's current expenditure.

5. Control of purchasing and elimination of inefficiency, patronage and favoritism which were more disastrous in finance than in the civil service.

U.S. Appeal Court Upsets Ruling on Teapot Dome Lease

St. Louis, Sept. 29.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeal yesterday reversed and remanded the decision of the District Court at Cheyenne, Wyo., upholding the Teapot Dome oil lease obtained by Harry F. Sinclair and associates from the Government while Albert B. Fall was Secretary of the Interior. The appellate court's decision is sweeping in effect and instructs the lower court immediately to cancel the Mammoth Oil Company's oil lease and enjoins it from further trespassing on government lands.

The opinion was received here from William Kenyon of Fort Dodge, Ia., presiding judge of the appellate court.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Attorneys for Harry Sinclair said here to-day they would appeal to the Supreme Court the decision of the United States Court of Appeal at St. Louis, holding the Teapot Dome naval reserve lease was obtained in a fraudulent manner. The move, they said, would be for a writ of certiorari.

Until a complete copy of the court's decision was received and studied, the attorneys said they would have nothing more to say.

Success of Stage Play Leads to a Damage Suit

Many reporters were waiting at the station, but none of them thought to look in the third class sections for the Belgian heir-apparent and he reached the palace in a taxicab without being recognized.

FILIPINOS DEMAND FULL INDEPENDENCE

National Council of Natives of Islands Voices Desire to Cut From U.S.

Manila, Sept. 29.—The supreme national council, created for the purpose of conducting an intensive campaign for Philippine independence yesterday approved a declaration of principles which asserts that only "immediate, absolute and complete independence will satisfy the people of the Philippines."

The declaration says.

"The people of the Philippines are firm in their stand that the only solution of the Philippine problem consistent with their aspirations and the pre-eminent interests of their country will consist in granting immediate, absolute and complete independence. In other words, any other measure which does not grant immediate, absolute and complete independence will not satisfy the people of the Philippines."

VIOLENT DEATHS IN EASTERN CANADA

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—Three suicides were among the fatalities reported in Eastern Canada yesterday.

A. N. Wilson, fifty-five, opened the gas jet in his bedroom in a Toronto rooming house and died from gas poisoning.

The body of Alfred Demers, forty, was found in a Montreal hotel with an empty bottle of arsenic poison at its side.

G. S. Moir, thirty-five, jumped into the Rideau Canal at Ottawa and was drowned.

Joseph Murphy, sixteen, University of Ottawa student, died from blood poisoning following an injury to his cheek.

Ten-months-old Armand Chabot was knocked out of his father's arms and killed by an automobile which became uncontrollable on a street in Montreal.

The four-year-old daughter of Walter Tait was run over and instantly killed by a heavy wagon in Salisbury, N.B.

CHURCH LEADERS DEBATE MIGRATION

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—Responsibilities devolving upon the church in carrying out its part of the Empire settlement scheme were discussed at the opening session here yesterday of the council for social service of the Church of England in Canada.

Differences of opinion arose over the acceptance of financial obligations for the immigration scheme now being sponsored by the church. The debate disclosed the fact that the Anglican Church had signed an agreement which bound it to guarantee five pounds sterling for the after-care of each immigrant brought to Canada from Britain.

J. W. Armstrong, Winnipeg, opposed any scheme of church subsidy, arguing the burden would become too great if any great volume of immigration were reached.

Rev. Canon C. W. Vernon, Toronto, general secretary, favored continuance of the present financial responsibility.

Vigorous opposition to the entry into Canada of pernicious literature from the United States was urged by the Bishop of Kootenay.

PROHIBITION SUPPORTED

New York, Sept. 29.—The Republican Party of New York State is out squarely for enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead Act. At its convention here Monday night it also urged participation of the voters in the wet and dry referendum to be acted on this Fall.

TAX EXEMPT BONDS IN CANADA NEAR THE BILLION MARK

Such Issues Criticized as "Bad Business" by the Citizens' Research Institute

Artificially Cheap Money Unsatisfactory Basis For Prosperity in West

Winnipeg, Sept. 29 (Canadian Press)—Problems of Canadian taxation, credits, public financing and civil service administration will be discussed at the annual convention of the Citizens' Research Institute, which opened here to-day, attended by economic experts from all parts of the Dominion.

This is the first convention of the institute to be held in the West under the auspices of the Winnipeg Board of Trade. The sessions will conclude Wednesday night. Sir James Aikins, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, in welcoming the delegates, paid tribute to the work of the institute, and said it deserved a wide measure of support from the citizens of Canada.

At the opening session, presided over by R. G. Persee, president of the Winnipeg Board of Trade, tax exempt bonds and rural credits were the subjects discussed.

Prof. W. W. Swanson of the University of Saskatchewan dealt with the question of tax free bonds, issuing a warning against following in the footsteps of the United States. The issuing of these bonds was "bad business," and had been proved so in many United States centres. Tax free bonds had been introduced in Canada under the stress of war finance.

The total of such bonds now stood at $915,000,000 in Dominion bonds, while the provinces accounted for $75,000,000 more. Enterprise and initiative should be encouraged, but not by the use of palliatives, such as was sought in the issue of tax free bonds.

The development and prosperity of the West, said Prof. Swanson, depends on creating conditions which would make agriculture more efficient. If our prosperity depended on artificially cheap money, he concluded, our economic life was unhealthy.

The Federal Government, according to C. C. Ferguson, general manager of the Great West Life Insurance Company, should assist the provincial governments in their schemes of rural credit financing, and not impose a new plan of its own. He dealt with the rural credits plan of the Federal administration which, he said, "proposed to handle the matter in the wrong way."

He also criticized the principle of either Dominion or Provincial participation in the furnishing of long-term credits to farmers. This form of financing was not necessary to-day, the agricultural industry is operated on a profitable basis.

Taft Declines To Talk About Quebec Liquor

Washington, Sept. 29.—"My dear fellow, I have been out of politics a long time, but I still know enough about politics to know what I ought not to talk about."

This was the reply of William Howard Taft, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, who was asked by a newspaperman for his opinion on the workings of the Quebec liquor law. Chief Justice Taft has just returned from Murray Bay, Que., where he spent several months at his Summer home.

NEW SOVIET TREATY

Moscow, Sept. 29.—Soviet Russia and Lithuania yesterday signed a treaty of neutrality and non-aggression.

Mothers

You can't blame children for becoming milk-tired

When children grow fussy it's the wise mother who often substitutes a cup of Ghirardelli's for milk. Children prefer it, and it's milk-plus in nourishment.

And remember there's no tax on the child's stomach. Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate is an ideal blend of chocolate, cocoa and pure sugar which has just enough fat to be easily digested.

GOOD ROADS

ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT CONventions of the month is that in which good roads enthusiasts are taking part at Edmonton. Since the advent of the automobile the problem of road construction has had to be dealt with in the most scientific manner. Methods of building, the question of grades and curves, and the all-important business of surfacing and maintenance, are undergoing constant change as the demands of the times vary and increase. Time was when the farmer and the miner looked askance at what appeared to be a greater attention being paid to what were regarded as automobile highways than was being paid to wagon roads and trails. It was not so clear at that time that the expenditure of money on these highway enterprises would turn out to be excellent investments the direct and indirect dividends from which would permit better and more roads for the tillers of the soil and those who operate the mines. But the farmer himself has long ago joined the automobile army. No modern homestead seems complete unless it possesses its ubiquitous Ford or a more pretentious machine. The question of good roads, therefore, is one which commands attention and study by all sections of this country's varied community life. To British Columbia good roads are especially essential. Tourist travel on wheels furnishes an important part of this Province's annual revenue and the increase of this particular income will be measured in the future by the mileage of good roads which traverse the numerous scenic areas. The Fraser Canyon highway is British Columbia's latest investment in a big way. This should be a good money-maker. It should stimulate more intensive settlement in those parts of the Province which have been handicapped for so long through lack of this sort of communication.

BUSINESS STILL INCREASING

STILL ANOTHER MONTH OF RAILway statistics bears witness to the steady growth of Canadian business. August traffic on the Canadian National Railways shows increased net earnings over the same month of last year amounting to no less than 21.07 per cent. The report issued from Montreal yesterday also reveals the fact that in the first eight months of 1926 the net earnings of the system amounted to $20,828,074.63, as against $8,385,691.81 during the corresponding period of last year. This is an advance of $12,442,382.82 for the current year so far—equivalent to a gain of 148.38 per cent.

What is true of the Canadian National is also true of the Canadian Pacific. Its gross earnings for the eight months ended August 31 total $118,456,380.70 as compared with $105,765,016.13 for the same period last year. After the deduction of $96,273,182.21 for working expenses, net profits were $22,183,198.49, which compares with $15,368,302.73 for the corresponding period of 1925. All this goes to show that the country has been steadily making progress for the last eighteen months and that the rate of it since this year began has increased its speed from month to month. And the prospect at this time is still more pleasant by virtue of the fact that the policies which have been responsible for much of the improved business throughout the Dominion will be continued and expanded by the Government which is back in office and, what is more important still, in undisputed power.

A TIMELY WARNING

VISCOUNT CECIL IS ON SOUND ground when he declares that "we must keep the League of Nations from being the home of cranks and fanatics." He was speaking at the recent meeting of the League Assembly in support of a British proposal that the organization should restrict its activities to the main task of preserving the peace of the world and not take up matters properly concerning individual governments.

The main job before the League is the prevention of war. It has done well already. Two or three threatening situations have been handled by it with conspicuous success. When it called Greece and Bulgaria to order it paved the way for a better understanding between the Balkan peoples. In fact conditions in that part of Europe are more peaceable now than they have been for years. A recognition of the League's authority and influence has been an important factor in this regard.

There are naturally many matters, apart from those directly related to armed conflict, with which the League quite properly may deal; but if, as Viscount Cecil implies, it wanders too far afield it will expose itself to the charge of infringing upon national sovereignty. Suspicion of that kind would be most unfortunate and ultimately lead to misunderstandings among the member states themselves.

The League must also educate and advertise. Its work should be thoroughly understood by the peoples of the world in order that universal public opinion may be ranged behind it. When this support is fully measured out it will have gone a long way towards its main objective.

STILL A LITTLE APPREHENSIVE?

THE VANCOUVER PROVINCE SEEMS unable to make up its mind to be really satisfied with the result of the recent general election. It is obviously pleased that stable government is now in prospect, but it argues that only the future will tell "with what aggressiveness" the policies of the new Cabinet will be advanced. It is not quite sure whether, after its own suggestion of some time ago that the size of the Ministry should be cut down in the interests of economy, Mr. Mackenzie King has done the right thing in his liberal distribution of portfolios. But it consoles itself on this point by arguing that if the Prime Minister thinks "he can discharge the duties he has assumed better with a large government than with a small one, and if he can give the country what it wants, the country will not cavil at the extra cost."

Our contemporary need not be apprehensive. It knows what the King Government did in office. It said its budget was "winning golden opinions everywhere," that the Australian Treaty was "one of the solid achievements of the King Government," and it has been telling the people of Vancouver how prosperous their city has become in the last few years. And it knows that the policies of the King Government have had a lot to do with that condition.

FORTUNATE VICTORIA

THERE IS A SUGGESTION THAT IT may not be necessary to hold a Fall sitting of the Assize Court in this city. The reason for this is the absence of serious cases to be dealt with. In two instances—the only two coming within the jurisdiction of the higher court—the defendants may apply for speedy trial in County Court. Should the Assize Court not sit on this occasion it will be the first time a scheduled session has not taken place.

There is cause for general satisfaction in this condition. It speaks well for the behavior of the community and forms part of that excellent advertisement which informs all and sundry that Victoria is about as healthy as any place in the world, that the various departments of its public services are doing their work thoroughly and efficiently, that local attractions in various forms contribute to the enjoyment of living in this part of the Dominion.

People nowadays are looking for places in which to live where they know their property is secure, where crime in any form is negligible, where there is a general recognition of the demands of industry, comfort, and safety. Many cities and towns on this continent are not in a position to boast of such desirable conditions. Thus is Victoria very fortunate.

From The Financial Post

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S POSITION

From The Toronto Star

It is inconceivable that any further constitutional issue should arise now that the elections are over.

It seems impossible that Mr. Meighen can take any other course but immediately resign and advise the calling in of Hon. Mackenzie King to reconstitute legal government in the country.

But our view of the constitutional position of the Governor-General is that His Excellency has no course under the present circumstances but to accept the advice of Mr. Meighen and follow it, no matter what that advice may be. Should wrong advice be given by Mr. Meighen, he and the political party of which he is leader must shoulder the responsibility to the Canadian people.

Great Skill as Hunters

By ARTHUR N. PACK

The Spider Huntsman

Ever since man has been on earth, he has in all probability admired the spiders, their skill and courage as hunters, the ingenuity which they display in fashioning their snares, the underground retreats of some species with its closely fitting trapdoor, so fashioned as to be held shut by the occupant.

The bite of all spiders is poisonous. It is in this way that they kill their prey. But the amount of poison is so small and their ability to penetrate the human skin so inadequate, that very few species, out of the thousands known, may be considered dangerous.

All spiders live on other creatures, and their methods of securing their prey are various. Some spin webs of diverse styles which serve as nets or snares; others hunt by open pursuit or by stealth. The crab-spiders, such as the one shown here, belong to the latter class. They have found that it is just as easy to make a living without the labor of spinning a web, or the monotony of remaining continually in one place.

They are usually light colored and are not conspicuous on goldenrod or other similar plants. So they merely wait around until some insect comes to get pollen or nectar from the flower, and then seize it. Besides being naturally swift they have the faculty of moving quickly sideways and the long powerful front pair of legs are dangerous weapons.

Do You Mean What You Say?

The Register and Tribune Syndicate, Des Moines

"SMALL POTATOES"

"Small potatoes and few in a hill" is a meaningful remark commonly employed when an individual is caught at a small, mean or contemptible trick. Those who are given to deceitfulness, petty haggling, or "splitting hairs" about small matters, or tight-fisted with money are examples of "small potatoes." The expression orginated in Ireland, where the soil is so poor that even the potatoes which are their chief article of diet are often small and "few in a hill."

DISTRIBUTES FREE BOOKS TO SAILORS

Tract Society Has Founded Large Number of Free Libraries in Canada

Appreciation is expressed by many sailors, soldiers, lumbermen, settlers and out-of-the-way villagers of the work of the Upper Canada Tract and Book society, for their good work in providing free libraries of choice books and other reading matter. This religious society formed ninety-four years ago has performed some excellent missionary work among the isolated people of the Dominion.

It is the only organization in Canada doing sailor welfare work among the 25,000 sailors on the Great Lakes and other inland waters and to lighthouse keepers and men of livesaving stations on both sides of the waterways and lakes.

It owns and operates the Royal Arthur Sailors' Institute at Port Arthur and the Sailor's Rest at Toronto. At each of these a free shipping bureau is conducted.

Rev. P. McGregor, the Western representative of the society, who has brought the work of the society to this city for the first time since it was founded in 1832, says that the main object of the organization consists in the forming free libraries in various institutions frequented by the class of people which it strives to help.

In Vancouver fourteen libraries have been founded by him. While in Victoria he made arrangements for the placing of free books in such places as the Protestant Orphans' Home, the Children's Aid Society, the Home for Aged and Infirm Women, Aged Men's Home and the military hospital, Esquimalt Nursing Home, the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., Red Cross Workshop and Girls' Social Service Home. There are sixty similar libraries founded by the society throughout the West.

Mr. McGregor has been in touch with Col. R. Wilby, Federal Government Agent of Marine and Fisheries here and Mrs. Alice Thompson of the Seamen's Institute and the Sailor's Club to forward his work among men of the seafaring profession.

VICTORIA COMITE FRANCE CANADA

To the Editor:—Since writing to you last year, several new books in French have been put in the Library of the Comite. There are probably several new arrivals in the city who read standard French books for pleasure and instruction.

The Victoria Comite has now been established four years, and has made steady progress. It is in possession of a small and representative library which can be seen at 1002 Government Street. Amongst the books on the shelves are to be found: Plays of Moliere and Racine, Montaigne's Essays. Books of travel in Morocco, Indo-China, Syria, the Malay Archipelego, Madagascar and Northern Africa, also a fair collection of good late fiction.

We extend a special invitation to Victorians and visitors to become members of the Comite for a nominal fee, and thus be free to borrow any of these fine French books.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL TO OPEN SHORTLY

Esquimalt School Board Takes Over Building From Contractor

The Board of School Trustees of Esquimalt last night formally took over from the hands of the builders the new Esquimalt High School, and in a meeting held behind closed doors, discussed their plans for its opening.

With Alexander Lockley, contractor and builder, in conference, the board remained in private session until midnight last night. James Elrick, chairman of the board, was pleased to announce, he said, that the school was actually in the hands of the municipality to-day.

October 13, the board decided, would be the day of opening for the institution. An invitation to S. J. Willis, Superintendent of Education for British Columbia, to officiate at the opening of the school on this date will be immediately forwarded by the secretary. Other invitations will be sent later.

On the day of the ceremony, entrance class pupils who have passed into the High School will receive their certificates and the pupil winning the highest marks will be rewarded a gold medal to be presented by the Daughters of the Empire.

TORONTO MINISTER TO SPEAK AT RALLY

United Churches of Victoria Presbytery Hold Gathering To-morrow Night

The rally of the United Churches of Victoria Presbytery to be held in the First United Church of the city to-morrow night at 7.45, promises to be one of the most remarkable ever held. This rally is arranged by the Young People's Council, and they have been most fortunate in securing Rev. Frank Langford of Toronto to address the meeting. Every church in the city has promised its co-operation, and the Young People's Societies are working hard to have as large a percentage of members present as possible. The meeting is also open to parents, Sunday school teachers and others interested. A collection will be taken to defray expenses. The following is the programme: Opening hymn, "Lord of the Lands"; prayer, Rev. E. R. McLean; hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers"; scripture lesson, 1 Cor. i 13, Miss F. McGibbon; violin solo, "Melodie" (Moskowski), Master George Tate; roll call; hymn, "All Hail the Power," to the Welsh tune "Diadem"; address, Rev. Frank Langford of Toronto; vocal solo, "The Voice in the Wilderness" (Prindle Scott), Miss Mabel Humphries; violin solo, "Adoration" (Borowski), Stanley Wakeman; hymn, "Jesus Shall Reign"; Benediction.

Hammond; cornets, J. Gough, C. Walker and D. Montague; horn, H. Montague; mandolins, Misses M. Warnick, D. and G. Lea; organ, Jack Smith.

WON KENTUCKY RACE

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 29.—Guy McKinney, owned by Henry B. Rea of Pittsburg, and driven by Nat Ray won the thirty-fourth yesterday renewal of the Kentucky Futurity yesterday. The track was slow and the time 2.07 and 2.06¾ was the slowest trotted in the event since 1912. The winner was a big favorite and this victory, his sixth one without a defeat makes approximately $70,000 he has won this year.

John E. Madden's Catherine was second, followed by Charm and Guydean respectively.

PARISIAN NIGHT LIFE PICTURED IN FILM NOW AT PLAYHOUSE

Everybody has heard of the beauty, wonder and adventure that Paris typifies. Everybody at some time or other longs to go and see for himself this gayest of cities. The trip can be taken by proxy by going to the Playhouse this week and seeing "Three Weeks in Paris," the Warner Brothers' classic of the screen, with Matt Moore and Dorothy Devore.

VETERAN COMEDIAN DONS POLICEMAN'S UNIFORM ONCE MORE

When Tom Wilson enacted the role of a "cop" in Charles Chaplin's picture, "The Kid," it was one of his first roles of this nature. His work in this picture attracted a lot of attention and comment and for many pictures which followed, Wilson was always called upon to play the role of the minion of the law.

Then followed a long career as a "blackface" artist, and for months Tom was pretty well wrought up over this ordeal. When the Christie studio decided to make a screen version of Mary Roberts Rinehart's book, "When a Man Marries," which Avery Hopwood created for the stage under the title of "Seven Days," they called in Wilson.

"Back in your blue uniform, Tom," said Scott Sidney, when Wilson reported. And now, throughout "Seven Days," Wilson plays his part as a "cop."

"Seven Days" s showing to-day at the Columbia Theatre for the last time.

AGNES AYRES BACK ON SCREEN IN "THE SON OF THE SHEIK"

Agnes Ayres terminated a screen vacation of twelve months when she appeared with Rudolph Valentino before the camera in scenes for Rudy's new film "The Son of the Sheik," which is being shown at the Dominion Theatre this week.

The screen lovers of other days appear once more in exact replicas of the picturesque costumes they wore in "The Sheik," which swept both to fame and stardom. The new film is a sequel to "The Sheik," being also an adaptation from an E. M. Hull novel. Many of the scenes in which Miss Ayres and Valentino appear together duplicate the former love-making in "The Sheik" scenes. They are what is technically known as "flash-backs."

Out of courtesy to United Artists Corporation and sentiment for a film which meant so much to her success, Miss Ayres was prompted to sign a contract. When it was decided that "The Son of the Sheik" should contain "flash-backs" to the old Sheik, Valentino felt the picture would be incomplete without Miss Ayres. So she graciously consented to enact the role, although it was not her intention to return to the screen until some time later in the year.

"STEEL FUNERAL" IS IMPRESSIVE SCENE IN "MAN OF STEEL"

One of the most impressive and spectacular scenes ever placed in a motion picture is seen in First National's special, "Men of Steel," now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

The scene in question is that of a "steel funeral," one of the most impressive funerals of modern times. There is a custom in the steel mills that when a man loses his life by falling into a ladle of molten metal, the ladle is buried with elaborate ceremones in which practically all of the steel workers take part.

In "Men of Steel" one of the principal characters falls to his death in one of the big ladles, and the steel funeral follows. The funeral for this picture was staged in one of the yards of the Ensley Mills of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company. A hole twenty feet in diameter was dug and the ladle was lowered into it.

Large Crowd Pack Coliseum to See Fine Romantic Drama

That Victoria theatre-goers still enjoy the legitimate stage is evidenced by the large crowds packing the Coliseum to witness Mr. Redmond's reproduction of the romantic drama "Pollyanna." The hardest test for a stage production in Victoria is a second week's run, but "Pollyanna" is playing nightly to steadily increasing houses. A beautiful story, full of romance and good, clean humor, well-constructed scenery, splendid acting and the masterly direction of Ed. Redmond combine to make of the current presentation the Coliseum's most successful play to date.

Tisdale, Sask., Sept. 29.—Bernard, eleven-year-old son of George Creswell, a farm laborer, was instantly killed when he was run over by a grain wagon on his way to school.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

INCREASING THE FORMULA

Mrs. J.J.M.:

For a baby of six months weighing twelve bounds this formula would seem to be right, as a child of this weight would do better with less water to make up the bulk and less at each feeding in actual quantity, twenty ounces of milk, twelve and one-half boiled water and three tablespoons of sugar. Put into five bottles and feed at 6, 10, 2, 6, and once at night. Start cereal at morning and at night, giving a teaspoonful to begin with and increasing slowly. Cod liver oil and orange juice can also be started. Further information on these subjects will be found in the No. 3 and No. 8 leaflets. Won't you send a self-addressed envelope and ask for these?

GOAT'S MILK

Mrs. G.F.K.:

Goat's milk can be used exactly as cow's milk is used, employing the same formulas for modification. It has some differences but they are not so essential that they need be taken into account. Providing the milking of goats is done in a cleanly manner, and the milk is kept clean and cold after milking, goat's milk is an admirable substitute for mother's milk, and if facilities for keeping the goat are present the cost of artificial feeding for an infant is considerably less than when cow's milk is used. A common goat will give two quarts of milk daily and a better goat can almost double that amount.

Mrs. H.S.L.:

I am so sorry that I am unable to supply my readers with clippings from any particular paper. The only clippings I have go into my own scrap book, for future reference. It is a splendid idea not to try to trust to one's memory when an article interests one, but to clip it immediately and file it for future use. Many mothers write me that they have scrap books of these clippings of which they make frequent use.

NURSES INITIATED IN ART OF DYEING

Jubilee Class Visits Pantorium; Demonstration of Cleaning

Yesterday afternoon the management of the Pantorium Dye Works, Fort and Quadra Streets, were hosts to a large class of nurses from the Royal Jubilee Hospital who, with Miss Gregory-Allen in charge, were shown over the plant and initiated into the various and fascinating processes of dyeing, dry-cleaning by a thorough and entirely odorless system, pressing, pleating and repairing.

The better to demonstrate the excellent workmanship achieved by this modern plant, a coat was taken from one of the nurses and put through all the routine stages, receiving condition noted, requirements tabulated, cleansing by dry cleaning process, examination for spots requiring special treatment, pressing and repairs, buttons which were removed being then replaced. The progress of the coat was followed with the greatest interest, and in the final examination room appeared like a new garment.

WELL-KNOWN SINGERS TO ASSIST BAND AT SOLARIUM CONCERT

The sacred concert to be given by the Navy League Juvenile Band at the Coliseum Theatre on Sunday next at 8.30 p.m. promises to be one that should appeal to music lovers of Victoria. Mrs. Charles E. Wilson and Miss Eva Hart, gifted local singers, will contribute to the programme. Besides these two prominent lady artists, H. J. Davis, the well-known baritone, who has not been heard for some time, will be an added attraction.

Mrs. Clifford Warn has also kindly consented to preside at the piano and play the accompaniments.

A collection will be taken at this concert, and the entire proceeds will be turned over to the Queen Alexandra Solarium fund. In view of the fact that this entertainment is to be given to aid such a deserving charity, the public are requested that children be not brought to the performance as the seating capacity of the theatre is limited.

Rummage Sale—The Victoria subdivision of the Catholic Women's League will hold a rummage sale on Saturday next in the premises at the corner of Douglas and Johnson Streets. MISS M. WILSON IS PRETTY BRIDE

Married to Peter Stewart of Ottawa at St. John's Church

St. John's Church was the scene last night of a very pretty wedding when the Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, rector of St. John's, assisted by the Rev. Montague Bruce, united in marriage, Muriel Grace, younger daughter of Mr. A. E. Wilson of Brandon, Manitoba, formerly of Victoria, and Mr. Peter Stewart of Ottawa, son of the late Mr. D. Stewart and of Mrs. Stewart of Wick, Scotland.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Keith Wilson, the bride was a picture of grace in her wedding gown of ivory white satin fashioned with a long waist-line and flare skirt on which was embroidered a petal-like design in pearls, while small satin flowers centred with rhinestones were dotted over the waist and skirt. A court train edged with rhinestones hung from the shoulders and was lined with soft pink crepe de Chine. Over the gown was draped a filmy veil attached to the coiffeure with a coronet of orange blossoms and having on the hem a true-lover's knot embroidered in pearls. Her bouquet was a shower of butterfly roses, white heather and swansonia.

The bridesmaid was Miss Gertrude Fox of Vancouver, who was smartly gowned in pale green georgette made with the fashionable long waist and a flare skirt flounced with all-over silk lace, a bouquet of red roses forming a cabochon on one side. With this was worn a hat of white georgette having embroidered on one side a spray of flowers. Her bouquet, a sheaf of pink carnations, tied with pink tulle. Little Betty Chadwick made a charming flower girl in apricot taffeta, carrying a golden basket of chrysanthemums.

The groom was supported by Professor D. G. Laird of the University of British Columbia, Vancouver.

The service was fully choral, with the choir in attendance and Mr. Jennings Burnett presided at the organ and during the signing of the register rendered an organ solo.

For the happy occasion, the church had been decorated in a color scheme of yellow and white by the members of the Girl's Auxiliary of St. John's Church, of which the bride has been a member for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, en route for Ottawa, where they will make their future home, and on their way East will visit friends and relatives in Banff, Calgary, Brandon, Winnipeg and Fort William. The bride's traveling gown was of gray flowered georgette, over which was worn the groom's gift, a handsome fur coat, and her hat was a chic toque of black velvet. To the bridesmaid the groom gave a white gold bar pin set with peridot, to the flower girl a bar pin set with a sapphire, and to the best man, military brushes.

Among the out-of-town guests were the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilson of Salt Spring Island, and her aunt, Mrs. A. G. Crofton of Salt Spring Island.

NATIONAL W.C.T.U. PREPARES PLATFORM

U.S. Body to Support Prohibition and Single Moral Standard

Los Angeles, Sept. 29.—A "platform" of uncompromising support of prohibition and advocacy of world peace and a single standard of morality for men and women was prepared at yesterday's session of the national convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union here, and will be voted upon to-day.

The paltofrm will be an innovation with the organization, and will displace the usual resolutions of the convention programme. The planks include condemnation of "straw" votes as a weapon deliberately forged to break down public morale in the matter of law observance, and refusal to accept government control of liquor traffic as a substitute for prohibition.

A very pleasant surprise visit was paid to the home of Mrs. N. Foster, 538 Obed Avenue, on Saturday evening, on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of her wedding, when the guests left with the hostess their good wishes as well as more tangible evidence of their affection in the shape of flowers and a handsome bowl with silver berry spoon. During the evening delicious refreshments were served. Among those present were: Mrs. D. Ramsay, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Sewell, Mrs. Collard, Mrs. Pritchard, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Smart, Mrs. Steel, Mrs. Pitt, Mrs. McNicol, and Miss Harrison.

Paris Fashion Letter

Such Gowns! Such Furs! Germaine Reports; And Such Prices!

PARIS, France.

Dearest Cousin:

These are the days when I realize the advantages of being a millionaire—or the wife of one—and I regret that Jimmy was rushed back home by his solicitous family. He was so thoroughly delightful, and so absolutely democratic that one quite forgave the fabulous wealth he represented.

If I had access to an unlimited bank account, or if I could buy according to the dictates of my conscience, the famous wardrobe of Jean Nash would look puny compared to mine, and every couturier of Paris would be sending tributes to my door.

Such evening gowns Such magnificent furs! Such intriguing sport attire! And such prices as the openings reveal.

For evening we are to go about in gold and silver inlaid with pearls,

Printed silk of blue and white

Beige wool with figured coat and yet we shall not look as though we were garbed for a masque ball. The designs are so thoroughly modern and so artistic.

Rodier has created the most marvelous range of textiles, shading from brown and beige into reds—perfect as stained glass windows.

I have a new two-piece outfit of Rodier wool, whih I had photographed for you. The frock is beige, trimmed with a fancy woven wool in shades of beige and brown, and a coat entirely of the figured wool, banded and lined with the plain. With this I wear a hat of tan felt.

Figured materials are most irresistible to me. A little printed silk afternoon frock at Jean Magnin's was so obviously created for me that Aunt Louise made me a present of it and a photograph of that too is enclosed.

As to cut, it is not unusual—pleated sections at the side, and a jacket effect in front, cut to give a rippling, jabot line at either side of the front. But the colors are marvelous, shades of blue from light to dark, with much of this sharp, flag blue, and white, arranged in cubistic display.

When I wear it, I am sure to receive compliments.

For evening, it seems to me nothing is more lovely than the new Bianchini silks, so rich and heavy there is no necessity to enrich them with trimming.

Incidentally, there are many afternoon frocks of lame and brocaded silks, and crepes trimmed with shaded gold and silver lame. On a dark ground, these plaids and waves of heavy gold are ever so attractive, I think.

I have seen two coats I am pining for, but father turns a deaf ear on my pleas. One is of thick black satin lined with beige crepe de Chine, with mammoth collars and cuffs of rabbit fur just the color of the lining. The sleeves are the new kind that extend from shoulder to waistline, and take the most fascinating folds.

For day, I should love to go about attired in a Chanel model of granite colored wool, banded with tiger cat fur. It makes me look as slender as a reed—and oh, so very knowing. When Aunt Louise sees it on me—I shall take great pains that she does—she will buy it in the interests of furthering art and beauty, I am confident.

Shopping keeps me busy, but I have time to see Jacques frequently, and to notice that he seems quite changed. I am sure he is thinking of the beautiful Argentine girl at Deauville.

While having tea with him yesterday at the pavillion of Henry IV at St. Germain, which place has recently been redecorated and has the most charming view in France, he told me his father's affairs were in rather bad shape, and he might have to visit several foreign offices for him. I couldn't help wondering if he would find it necessary to take a trip to Buenos Aires. Do you suppose he was merely taking that way of explaining his absence? Time will tell.

Regards to my aunt and uncle, and all my love to you.

GERMAINE.

DENNISON ART CLASS IS IN FULL SWING

Many Women Take Advantage of Free Tuition at Diggons; Charming Results

House-proud matron as well as the woman who is seeking novel ideas for Christmas gifts will find scope for nimble fingers at Diggon's Printing Company, where a series of classes in Dennison art work are in full swing.

Seventy-five women have enrolled in the classes, which are free, and yesterday afternoon a Times representative visiting the store found much of interest in the busy scene. In the big airy upstairs studio, a number of women were engaged in fashioning charming lampshades in the popular parchment and crystalline effects, under the direction of Mrs. Diggon and her capable assistatn, Miss Stubbs. Under their expert eye, shades which will be things of beauty and a joy for ever were being evolved at a minimum of expense and with a maximum of artistry.

At another table other women were being initiated into the mysteries of sealing wax novelties, manipulating it into numbers for marking bridge tables and dainty pendants for wear. At the same table a small girl was receiving a lesson in making most realistic chrysanthemums from yellow paper, while at still another table women were busily creating fascinating baskets and table decorations with the aid of wire and crepe paper.

On every hand were examples of the charming articles which may be achieved with Dennison art craft, and which are a revelation to the uninitiated.

The classes are held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from 2.30 till 4.30 o'clock, tea being served during the afternoon. The popularity of the classes may be judged from the increase in the number attending, forty commencing the season, whereas now seventy-five are on the roll.

Sketch Club Met—An interesting and succesful meeting of the Sketch Club of the Island Arts and Crafts was held on Tuesday afternoon in the Arts and Crafts rooms, Union Bank Building, where some excellent sketches of floral subjects were made. On Tuesday next, weather permitting the weekly meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Averill, Rockland Avenue.

Why not? You shave yourself. Why not polish your own shoes and save the $20. to $30. a year which now goes to the shoe shine parlor?

Shining your shoes with "Nugget" is quicker and easier than shaving yourself, and you save 15c. every time you do it.

There are 100 shines in a 15c. tin of "Nugget"—many more than in any other ordinary sized tin of shoe polish.

ARMISTICE PERIOD COMMITTEE PLANS FOR ANNIVERSARY

Eighteen thousand poppies will be ordered for sale and distribution on November 6 in Victoria, according to the decision of the Armistice Period committee which met last night. On Sunday afternoon, the following day, the memorial service will be held in the Royal Victoria Theatre.

The Army and Navy Veterans, British Campaigners, the Canadian Legion, Naval and Britannia Post branches of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League were represented at the meeting.

A request of the district council of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., that it be allowed the charge of distribution of poppies in Victoria on Poppy Day, was considered and discussed at some length. It was finally decided that this organization be asked to reconsider its request. The organization also wished to take charge of the memorial service, which in the past has been arranged by the Armistice Period committee.

With all accounts paid up to the end of August, the secretary of the Armistice Period committee reported a cash balance on hand of $309. The final meeting of this committee to arrange for the Armistice celebrations will be held on Tuesday next.

Master of French Steamship Fined On Liquor Charge

New York, Sept. 29.—Capt. Mauris Aubert of the French line transatlantic steamship De Grasse was fined $438 yesterday after customs officials had seized cognac and benedictine which they alleged was being smuggled from the liner.

Five men near a motorboat, in which the officials suspected the liquor was to be loaded, were arrested. After they denied knowledge of the liquor, the fine, representing $6 on each bottle of liquor, was imposed against Capt. Aubert.

Unable to Refloat Blue Star Steamer

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—Efforts to refloat the Blue Star liner Trojan Star, ashore on Roberts Bank, near Point Roberts, since late Monday night, were unsuccessful early to-day and 900 tons of fuel oil is now being lightered. The vessel is resting easy and it is expected she will be refloated this afternoon.

Exhibition of Silver Antiques

September 27 to October 4

Authentic Beauty

Time is the test, and survival the proof, of beauty.

Changing tastes and passing years are ruthless in their judgments. Only rare beauty and inherent worth can place a thing beyond the criticism of passing generations and save it from their neglect.

When you purchase a piece of silver out of the reign of the first of the Georges, or an example of Old Sheffield plate, designed in the early days of that extraordinary craft, you become the possessor of authentic beauty. Time has had its final word to say, and has pronounced it excellent.

And that is why Antique Silver is so satisfying as an Investment or a Gift.

All this week Birks are holding an Exhibition of Antique Silver. Many of the articles on view are "museum" pieces, and this is the first time they have ever been displayed on this continent.

You are specially invited to come in and see the fine old pieces now on view. Next week will be too late, for the Exhibition closes on October 4.

N.Y.K. WILL TAKE BIG MOTORSHIPS OFF TRANSPACIFIC RUN

Atago Maru and Asuka Maru to be Withdrawn From Service After December 1

Will Likely be Placed on the Frisco-Orient Route; Toyama and Tokiwa to Return

After having been operated for the past year and a half on the transpacific service between the Far East and the Pacific Coast under the house flag of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha the two 15,000-ton motorships Atago Maru and Asuka Maru are to be withdrawn from this service, according to an announcement made this morning by A. H. Hebb, local general agent for the Japanese line. These two liners will be taken off this route some time after December 1.

Mr. Hebb stated this morning that he had not been advised of the reasons for the vessels' withdrawal but it is possible that they may be replaced again when the Summer tourist travel commences.

The Atago and Asuka will be replaced by the Toyama Maru and the Tokiwa Maru, two smaller vessels, the former being of 4,386 gross tons and the Tokiwa of 4,280 gross tons.

At one time the N.Y.K. operated all of these four liners on the transpacific route along with the Iyo Maru, Kaga Maru, Yokohama Maru and Shidzuoka Maru. This gave the Japanese company the largest fleet of vessels operating between the Far East and the Pacific Coast. Some time ago the steamships Tokiwa Maru and Toyama Maru, two of the oldest ships on the run, were withdrawn from this service and placed on the run between the Orient and San Francisco.

Now that the Toyama and Tokiwa will return to the transpacific route it is more than likely that the Atago and Asuka will be placed on the San Francisco-Orient route.

The Asuka Maru is due to arrive in Victoria from the Orient on October 27 and this will probably be her last trip before being withdrawn. The Atago, according to schedule is due here on December 1, and this will be the vessel's last voyage on the transpacific route.

The Toyama and Tokiwa are smaller vessels in every way in comparison with the Atago and Asuka. Both their passenger and freight accommodations are less than the motorships, while they are not nearly as fast.

The Asuka Maru and Atago Maru are sister ships. The former made her first trip out to the Pacific Coast from the Orient in May, 1925, and was followed by the Atago in June.

COAST STEWARDS ARE NOW ORGANIZED

Affiliate With Hotel and Restaurant Workers' Union in Vancouver

A recent addition to the ranks of labor unionism in this Province has been made in the affiliation of the British Columbia Coast Steamship Stewards with the Vancouver Hotel and Restaurant Workers' Union.

Since 1923, when their union was broken up during the only strike in its history, the stewards on steamers plying up and down the British Columbia coast have been unorganized.

Passenger traffic in British Columbia is seasonal, it is said, and as a result of the absence of a recognized central body, steamship companies have had considerable difficulty in locating enough experienced men to fill their crews during the Summer tourist peak.

In Winter, on the other hand, many of the men have been out of work for months at a time, due to numbers of ships being laid up every Fall. The union will seek to obviate this condition by distributing available employment evenly among all its members, much as the Hotel Employees' Union does at present.

The organization, through the Vancouver branch of the Hotel Employees' Union, has already recruited a large number of steamship men, and expects shortly to enroll all of the 400 men who sail regularly out of Vancouver and Victoria in its ranks. The union plans to work in co-operation with the steamship companies with the object of benefiting all concerned as much as possible.

After discharging here the vessel shifts to Gray's Harbor to load 4,000,000 feet of lumber for Philadelphia and New York.

The McCormick Steamship Company's passenger and freight vessel West Mahwah, loading at Gray's Harbor for the east coast of South America, comes to Seattle next week to complete its cargo.

To complete loading for Atlantic Coast ports, the Muncon-McCormick freighter Redman comes to Seattle Thursday, while the Albron of the same service is due in Seattle to-day to discharge 1,500 tons of freight.

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

Esquimalt.—To find the depth of water on the sill of the dry dock at any tide, add 16.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

No great spoiling of grain or deterioration in grade was expected by Mr. Boyd, provided cool sunny weather and drying winds prevail for the next few days.

No reports of damage to crops have reached the commission so far, he stated.

For the first time in many years the Fall session of the Assize Court in Victoria may not convene. October 12 was the date set for any criminal hearings that might be ready. So far only two hearings were on hand and in both cases, it is stated, election may waive a jury trial. Efforts to bring Milo Eggers to Victoria in time for trial at the Fall Assizes did not succeed when that defendant opposed extradition for trial on a hi-jacking charge.

MYSTERY WAGON WAS CAUSE OF ACCIDENT

Kamloops, Sept. 29.—A mystery wagon, traveling on the wrong side of the road, was responsible for the accident which caused fatal injuries to Constable Arthur W. Mable of the provincial police, acording to evidence given at the coroner's inquest. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death from blood poisoning following injuries.

Constable Mable, keeping the rule of the road, passed the wagon on the left and collided with a car facing in the opposite direction, which had come to a stop on the right side of the road with a front wheel on the sidewalk. While a crowd gathered around the scene, the wagon, which was the cause of the collision, went on its way and despite investigations has never been traced.

Anglo Sposito was this morning found guilty of keeping liquor for sale in his premises, 1055 Yates Street. Magistrate Jay imposed a penalty of $300, or in default three months hard labor. R. C. Lowe appeared for the defendant. The fact that there were four witnesses which the defence might have called had it so desired, but who were not brought into the court, was against the defendant, said the magistrate. The great variety of liquor stocked in the house, the glasses, trays and general paraphenalia, all indicated that the place was other than it ought to have been.

The expenditure of $300 for two wheel chairs, china, rubber sheeting and bed jackets for the children's ward of the Jubilee Hosital by the Daughters of Pity, was the outstanding report at the regular meeting of the society, held at the home of Miss Chrow, Burdette Avenue, on Monday evening. REEVE ANSCOMB WILL NOT OPPOSE MAYOR

Interested in Seeing Development of Inter-Municipal Relations

Willing to Continue Chairmanship of Oak Bay With Council Support

That there is no foundation to the rumor that he would oppose Mayor Pendray for the mayoralty at the coming civic elections was the gist of a statement from Reeve Anscomb to-day.

While admitting he had been asked by a good many people to do so, and that at some time in the near future he would possibly accede to their request, Mr. Anscomb stated that under existing circumstances, with the water rate controversy still unsettled, it would be unfair to do so, by virtue of the fact that if elected and the rate controversy resulted in a favorable decision for Oak Bay a good many people would naturally infer that he had influenced that decision. "Confidence to my mind," stated the reeve, "is the basis of all business. Shatter confidence and you lose all."

DISCUSSES WATER RATE

"At this point," the reeve continued, "it would be well if I said now publicly that I am just as desirous as the city officials themselves that the city should have a fair profit on the sale of water; but the profit must only be a reasonable one and the cost arrived at by the application of properly established principles.

"Whether I shall run again in Oak Bay depends entirely on whether any of my colleagues at present on the council desire the office. If so, I shall be pleased to step down in their favor. I am intensely interested in the municipal affairs of the city and adjacent district and believe that by proper management all of them can be brought to a high state of efficiency and operated as any ordinary business would be conducted."

That 1927 would in any event be his last year in Oak Bay was the reeve's definite statement.

The announcement by Reeve Anscomb that he would not oppose the return of Mayor Rendray in the city leaves the field open for the return of His Worship by acclamation for a final term. Mayor Pendray has announced his intention to stand again on a policy of port development.

JURY AWARDS LARGE SUM TO PETITIONER IN DIVORCE HEARING

Sum of $35,000 Set as Amount to be Paid by Absent Co-respondent

A decree absolute was granted by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in the divorce hearing of Randy vs. Randy yesterday afternoon. Petitioner, Attilio Randy, asked $50,000 damages from the common jury hearing the case. After deliberating fifteen minutes the jury returned with a damage award of $35,000 in favor of the petitioner and costs, to be paid by the co-respondent, Eugene Robelin.

Fred C. Elliott appeared for the petitioner. Zella Randy, the respondent, and Eugene Robelin, co-respondent, were undefended at the hearing.

The damage award is one of the largest ever given in British Columbia courts and followed representations by petitioner that his wife had left him in favor of the co-respondent, who was said to be wealthy and now resident at Nice, France. Evidence was entered by affidavits sworn to by French detective operators, alleging grounds for the complaint.

At the close of evidence Mr. Justice McDonald found for the petitioner, granting a decree absolute. The jury, urged by counsel to consider damages for alienation of affections and not as a punishment on the co-respondent, awarded $35,000 and the costs of the suit against Eugene Robelin.

A jury of eight was sworn for the hearing, including A. A. Nex, Ira Osborn, A. Mallett, A. E. Payne, S. H. Wheeler, G. R. Fleming, W. P. Jeune and F. C. Greenwood.

New Series Six-cylinder Sedan Hupmobile sells in Victoria, $2,185.

City Tax Sale Opens Thursday

As required by law the city sale of tax sale properties will open at the City Council Chamber on September 30 at 10 a.m. Fewer parcels go on the block this year than for some years past, in itself an indication of the progress being made by the city and the great improvement in the percentage of tax collection. Properties sold at the tax sale may be redeemed by their former owners within a year by the payment in full of any sums outstanding against them.

ASKS SUPPORT FOR LOCAL INDUSTRIES

S. J. Drake Urges Real Estate Board to Stand Behind City Manufacturers

S. J. Drake, speaking on behalf of local industries, at the meeting of the Victoria Real Estate Board to-day, claimed that there was no sectionalism or narrow-mindedness in people of the West supporting western industry in preference to that of the East.

It was fundamental in the progressive movement of a city that her people should be loyal to one another, he said. Mr. Drake asked that real estate men, when they had occasion to paint homes, equip them with plumbing or furnaces, shingle them or build them, should remember local factories. He mentioned the growth of several Victoria manufacturing concerns, notably his own business, the Albion Stove Works, which had won a high reputation all up and down the coast and at many points inland. The business was steadily expanding, said Mr. Drake, and to-day his employees numbered thirty-five. As the business grew the staff would be increased. Mr. Drake invited the members of the board to visit the plant and the invitation was accepted, next Wednesday at 3.30 o'clock being set as the date for the visit.

OPPOSES TWO-YEAR TERM FOR MAYORS

Real Estate Board Supports Motion of R. H. B. Ker

Stating that he could see no reason why the present custom in Victoria of electing a mayor for a one-year term should be changed, R. H. B. Ker urged the Real Estate Board at its regular meeting to-day, to go on record as opposing any such proposal.

It was in no way desirable, he said, that a man should be elected to a two-year term in Victoria. Although this was mooted by some persons in the city, and the City Council had passed in favor of it by a majority of one vote, Mr. Ker said that he could see no good reason for it. It should be put up for referendum, he said. One year at a time was plenty, he added.

His motion contained this suggestion, and there was no discussion, the motion being carried unanimously.

The City Council, explained Mr. Ker, had already sent its recommendation to the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

ANCIENT FLAGPOLE TOPPLES TO MAKE WAY FOR NEW ONE

Old Stick Rotten as it Lies Shattered on Parliament Buildings Lawn

New and Better Pole to Flaunt Union Jack in the Breeze Soon

One of Victoria's oldest landmarks, the towering flagpole which has stood in front of the Parliament Buildings since they were built, lay upon the lawns of Parliament Square this morning, shattered and rotten.

In place of the long, smooth pole stood a ragged spar which will be used to install a taller and better pole. The new pole lies behind the Parliament Buildings all ready to carry the Union Jack in the breeze after it has been hoisted into place.

POLE IS ROTTEN

The old pole, which has carried the flag since the days when the little red parliament buildings were moved away and the present stone pile was erected, was found to be rotten to the heart when it crashed down upon the lawn. Dry rot had eaten into it at many points, just as experts of the Public Works Department had suspected. They ordered the shaft removed because they considered it a menace to the safety of those walking below it and their judgment proved correct.

OBSERVERS ALARMED

An excited group of people watched workmen fell the old pole this morning and many of them thought that the rough spar which stood beside it was to be its successor.

"Aren't they even going to peel the bark off it?" one old lady demanded indignantly as she viewed the ragged spar which stood in place of the broken pole after its final destruction.

Meanwhile the real pole lies at the rear of the buildings and will be erected to-morrow. The spar standing on the concrete base will be used to haul the pole into position and drop it down into the hole prepared for it.

TRADE EXPERT TO MEET ROTARIANS

E. L. McColl Will Tell of Opportunities in South America

Chamber of Commerce Members and Manufacturers Invited

Rotarian E. L. McColl of the Buenos Ayres Club, Canadian Government Trade Commissioner to the Argentine, will lecture on "Trade Opportunities in South America," at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Empress Hotel Thursday. The address will be illustrated with lantern slides.

Members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association have been invited to attend the Rotarian luncheon to hear the trade commissioner.

Mr. McColl is making a tour of the whole Dominion, emphasizing the opportunities which exist for Canadian exporters in South America. He has a comprehensive list of statistics which go to support his arguments that a profitable market exists for Canadian products in South America.

MOTHER OF ROGERS HORNSBY PASSES

Expressed Desire Son Would Not be Called From the World's Series

Austen, Texas, Sept. 29.—Mrs. M. D. Hornsby, mother of Rogers Hornsby, St. Louis Cardinals' manager, died here at 3 o'clock to-day.

Mrs. Hornsby sank rapidly shortly before noon following a turn for the worse after her eleven-year invalid condition.

Hornsby, who Saturday will lead his team against New York in the world's series, had not been called to her bedside. She asked that he not be called because of the series. Her eldest son, Everett, is due to arrive to-night from Tulsa, Okla.

Mrs. Hornsby had expressed a wish to be able to live until the conclusion of the world's series, which she confidently expected Rogers's men to win.

FIVE YEARS FOR VANCOUVER FORGER

John Wilson Received Two-Year Sentence Here in 1915

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—Possessing a record for similar offences, John Wilson appeared before Magistrate H. C. Shaw in police court to-day after pleading guilty to three charges of uttering forged documents and was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary at New Westminster.

Wilson had been sentenced here in 1912 to three years, in Victoria in 1915 to two years, and again in 1921 was given a term of five years in Kingston Penitentiary, Ont. In regard to the latter term, Wilson told the court he had served the full time, less the usual remission for good conduct. He was arrested recently after allegedly passing worthless cheques by the use of names of prominent local firm. Wilson used a rubber stamp and protectograph to make the cheques appear authentic.

"HELP TO BUILD VICTORIA'S NEW CATHEDRAL"

WILL LAUNCH NEW BUILDING SOCIETY

Organization to Help Home Buying Will be Formed at Meeting Friday

Another of the series of building societies which during the past forty years have helped many Victorians to become home owners will be launched at a meeting to be held at 8 p.m. on Friday at 402 Pemberton Building.

The meeting has been called by officials responsible for the management of former societies and all those who are interested are invited to attend.

Much good work has been done in the past by these organizations in the way of encouraging members to accumulate savings and acquire title to homes, the help of the society being sought, not only for the purpose of building, but for the purchase of property or, in most cases, the liquidation of existing encumbrances.

It is expected that the new society will be constituted on a plan, which, while providing for the retention of the popular drawing feature, will establish it on a more permanent than the former so-called terminating societies, such as the Victoria, the Victoria No. 2 and the Greater Victoria. Further information can be had on application at 1008 Broad Street or by phoning 3209.

New Faces Strengthen Local Canadian Team

Art Lewis, Formerly of Queen's Champions; "Red" Ryan, of Toronto Argos, and Several Other Players to Pull on Uniforms for Victoria in "Big Three" League; Capitals Will Travel to Vancouver for Opening Game Saturday; Varsity Will Be Here the Following Week for Game

Victoria's entry in the "Big Three" Canadian Rugby League will journey to Vancouver for the opening game of the season on Saturday afternoon. The team has been selected, following a series of workouts which have revealed the fact that there is some splendid material available. The Capital representatives have a great chance to win the provincial championship this year, which would insure participation in the playoff for the Canadian title.

Several of the players who appeared on the local teams in the exhibition games last season will retain their places, but a number of newcomers to this city have displaced most of the others.

Art Lewis, a local boy who played with the Queen's champions for four years, has completed his medical course and is now prepared to don the colors of his home town. Lewis will prove a tower of strength to the Victoria club, and his experience will be invaluable. Lewis will play snap with Jack McDonald, another husky native son, who has taken quickly to the Canadian code.

PLAYED WITH ARGOS

"Red" Ryan is another new-comer who has had plenty of good schooling in the Canadian game. Last year he played with the Argos, of Toronto, and a man has to have plenty of ability to catch a place with that club.

Charlie Smith also hails from the East. Last year he played with the Hamilton Collegiate, which is noted for producing fast men.

The quarterback job this season will fall on the shoulders of Stanyer, a former Ottawa player who was with Vancouver last season. Stanyer replaces George Porteous at quarter. Jack Foster also played with Vancouver last year.

Benny McMillan, who is noted for his rowing and rugby ability, has been assigned the task of playing flying wing. Ross Wilson, Jack Foster and Johnson are down for the middle wings, while "Tiny" Watson, McFarlane and McMurchie will be available for the inside wings and Dick Wilson, Ryan and Burnes will be on the outside.

PLENTY OF SPEED

The local club will have plenty of speed and kicking ability among the halves. Hec Goodacre, Gordie Fraser, Teddy Grubb, Charlies Smith, Horne and Putman will all get a chance to show what they can do in this position. All the kicking will be done by Fraser, who showed a good toe last year and who has been practicing faithfully this season. He gives every indication of becoming a sensation.

Ernie Cook, who is managing the Victoria team, is quite delighted over the prospects of his club.

"We have a team that would hold its head up in the best company in the East," said Ernie to-day. "I think we will give a good account of ourselves in Vancouver."

The opening game of the "Big Three" League in Victoria will be staged one week from Saturday, when Varsity will cross the Gulf to meet the locals. This game will be staged at the Royal Athletic Park and a big crowd is expected.

The schedule of the "Big Three" League is as follows:

October 2—Victoria at Vancouver.
October 9—Varsity at Victoria.
October 16—Vancouver at Varsity.
October 23—Vancouver at Victoria.
October 30—Victoria at Varsity.
November 6—Varsity at Vancouver.

"HAIR-GROOM"

Keeps Hair Combed, Glossy Well-Groomed all Day

"Hair-Groom is a dignified combing cream which costs only a few cents a jar at any drug-store. Millions use it because it gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to the hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy, lustrous hair. (Advt.)

ENGLISHMAN WHO CROSSED CHANNEL

Channel swimmer No. 5 for the year is Norman Derham, an Englishman. Fifteen hours and fifty-six minutes after he slipped into the water, Derham staggered up the beach to the plaudits of watchers who have seen the feat accomplished many times before.

OUR MAIL BAG

THE FINANCIAL SIDE

To the Sports Editor.—Would just like to say a few words in reply to J. G. Hall's letter appearing in last night's issue of The Times re "A Football Effort." In section two he says that $21.87 was a very gratifying result over the match with St. Saviours, due to thirty-five cents admission. Surely Mr. Hall can see that the gate will not always be so gratifying at that price for admission, for the followers will stay away in future. Furthermore, the result financially would be more in the neighborhood of $51.87 if the admission was twenty-five cents, for the simple reason the numbers would be there, and that is what counts in admission prices to sports.

W. M. BROWNING.

INTERMEDIATE RUGGERS

A meeting of the Intermediate Rugby League will be held to-night in the Chamber of Commerce at 7.30 o'clock. Entries for the league will be received, and all teams are asked to be represented.

Frank Adams Plans Visit to Henley to Lift Diamond Sculls

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—Future plans of Frank Adams, Pacific Coast single sculls champion, include competition in the Canadian Henley and national events, and eventually the diamond sculls, world championship. This was revealed by "Bob" Johnston, who has coached the promising young oarsman, at a banquet given in the latter's honor at the Vancouver Rowing Club on Tuesday evening. Adams won the coast title at San Francisco a few weeks ago.

Mr. Johnston moved the toast to Adams and it was seconded by Col. Victor Spencer.

No Cheap Publicity To Demean His Title Declares Mr. Tunney

Champion Dusts Off His Vocabulary Before Group of Newspapermen

Could Step From Ring to Lecture Platform, They Say; Tribute to Dempsey

New York, Sept. 29.—Gene Tunney dusted off his vocabulary yesterday to tell a room full of newspaper men how it feels to be a heavyweight champion.

Skeptical sports writers at Tunney's training camp suggested he was training for the Chautauqua platform rather than the ring. Thursday night he justified his appearance within the squared circle and yesterday he convinced his hearers he can step from the ring to the speaker's platform. All his best training camp words were on parade with some new ones of championship calibre.

The champion sent some of his hearers, who had not visited Stroudsburg down for a count of nine at the outset. He paid an early tribute to Dempsey.

"There is a game sportsman," he declared. "Think of what the night meant for him. Not only did he sacrifice at least two million dollars, but in addition to the final reward he saw the glory, lustre and acclamation, that go with the title, fading away. And with all this disappointment, his great heart permitted him to extend me congratulations that were undoubtedly sincere and smile when he must have been in pain. That's gameness."

TALKS OF IDEALS

The boxer talked of his ideals.

"This championship gives me the opportunity to put into realization some ideals I have had since long before I dreamed of being champion," he said.

"I have no plans for there will be no haphazard schedule mapped out in my behalf. I do not propose to have this title demeaned by any cheap publicity. I shall remain here at home for the present and at the moment my boxing activities are in the laps of the gods and hands of Tex Rickard. I will meet any one Mr. Rickard names. He gave me my chance at the championship and I would be ungrateful if I did not do all that I can to reciprocate.

"I will meet Jack Dempsey any time Jack wishes."

Some one asked, "Will you meet Wills?"

"I will meet Jack Dempsey any time he says the word," was Tunney's reply.

TO SEE KIDDIES

Tunney, at the moment, has only two engagements. He plans to go to Philadelphia Saturday to appear in the stadium where he won the title, as the guest of honor of several thousand Philadelphia children.

He has accepted, also, an invitation to be the guest of honor at a banquet given by the New York state department of the American Legion at the Commodore Hotel, New York, October 28.

New York, Sept. 29.—"I was sick after the fight but not before. I don't want sympathy and I have no alibi," Jack Dempsey said last night on arriving in New York from Atlantic City. The former champion was replying to a query if he was sick when he lost his title to Gene Tunney last Thursday night.

Announcing that he had no plans for the future and could not say if he would box again, the deposed king proceeded to justify the characterization "game sportsman," applied by Gene Tunney in speaking of the man from which he wrested the title.

"No, the wet ring was no handicap. The only handicap I had, was myself. I lost to a better man and that's all there is to it," Dempsey added as he explained he will remain in New York a month. "As I did not have enough trouble," the former champion laughed. "I have the itch now." He described it as a slight but uncomfortable skin irritation. "It's not the seven-year variety," he said. It was contracted during his training for the championship bout.

Three Hot Rivals For Miss Collett's Crown Out of Competition

Haverford, Pa., Sept. 29. — Three outstanding rivals for the women's golf crown of Glenna Collett were eliminated yesterday in a series of sensational first round upsets, which spared the champion herself only after an exciting uphill battle.

While the titleholder was being carried to the home green of the Merion course through a drenching downpour to win over Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City, 2 up, Maureen Orcutt, Metropolitan champion; Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, victor in the national event of 1924, and Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, who defeated Miss Collett earlier in the season, were meeting unexpected defeat.

Miss Orcutt, failing to bring her putter under command on the wet greens, bowed to Mrs. Lee Mida of Chicago, 4 and 3.

Excellent recovery shots from soggy traps carried Mrs. J. S. Cassriel, Aurora, Ill., to victory over Mrs. Hurd, 2 and 1; while Miss Van Wie went down before the consistently good golf of Mrs. Norman Toerce of Glen Cove, N.Y., who brought off a smooth incoming card of 38.

LEADS IN HOMERUNS

San Francisco, Sept. 29.—Elmer Smith, Portland outfielder has taken a commanding lead in the Pacific Coast League home run race and with forty-two circuit swats to his credit heds his nearest rival, Ike Boche, of the Missions, by ten. "Buzz" Arlett, Oakland rightfielder, is fourth with 27.

Semi-Finals Reached In Women's Tourney

Miss Wilson, Mrs. Philbrick and Mrs. Hutchinson, of Victoria, and Miss Sayward, of Colwood, Will Play for Right to Enter Finals To-morrow; Miss Sayward's Victory This Morning Was Convincing

Three players from the Victoria Golf Club, Miss Marion Wilson, Mrs. Philbrick and Mrs. Hutchinson, and one from the Colwood Golf Club, Miss Margaret Sayward, will contest the semi-finals of the women's city golf championship at Oak Bay to-morrow morning. As a result of the matches in the second round today this quartette swept through into the round before the finals.

Miss Wilson will meet Mrs. Philbrick and Mrs. Hutchinson plays Miss Sayward in the semi-finals. Mrs. Philbrick, who reigned supreme in the women's local golf circle for some time, will have a hard match to-morrow with Miss Wilson, who won the medal round two days ago.

Miss Sayward is also playing a remarkable game, and it would not be surprising if the single women were the victors to-morrow.

AN EASY VICTORY

There was some surprise over the ease with which Miss Sayward disposed of Mrs. Walter Parry. The margin was 7 and 5 in favor of Miss Sayward. Mrs. Parry was completely off her game and Miss Sayward took advantage of every opportunity and ended the match on the thirteenth green.

Miss Marion Wilson, the medalist, again won by a two-hole margin. Yesterday she eliminated Mrs. Abell and to-day she defeated Mrs. Wilding by 2 and 1. Miss Wilson continues to play very steady golf and ranks as a favorite for the title.

Mrs. Jack Rithet, who was second in the medal round, went down before the good play of Mrs. Hutchinson by the score of 3 and 2.

Mrs. Harry Ross was eliminated by Mrs. Philbrick, who has held the title before. Mrs. Philbrick won by 3 and 2.

The results this morning were as follows:

Championship Flight

Miss Wilson defeated Mrs. Wilding, 2 and 1.

Carlaris, Unable To Get Going In Summer Returns To Tia Juana

Wonder Horse on Mexican Track Last Winter Will Try to Rejuvenate Himself

Tia Juana Race Track, Mex., Sept. 29.—Carlaris, the "wonder horse" of Winter racing last season, is coming back to Tia Juana. This mighty son of the English sire Pharlaris will, in three weeks, be on his way back to the scene of his last season's conquests where, at the Tia Juana race track, he was the winner of the Tia Juana Derby and the Coffroth Handicap. These two stakes netted W. T. Anderson, the owner, $23,775 and $70,000. Qwner Anderson has just informed the Tia Juana Jockey Club that his big string, including Carlaris, will be shipped from the East.

Once a mighty horse, a phenomenom as thoroughbreds go, Carlaris, after attracting world-wide attention at Tia Juana last season, was a keen disappointment to all turfdom this Summer. He failed to carry his speed over a distance of ground. In the Raceland Derby and later in the Coney Island Derby, Carlaris did not show that stamina which marked his victories at the Mexican track. He never seemed to reach last Winter's form.

A WINTER RUNNER

Comes now the opinion, and this from some very good students of the thoroughbreds, that Anderson's stake horse is strictly a Winter track runner. These point out, and not without precedent, that the Summer heat of the East probably threw Carlaris off form. They further maintain that he will show a return to his old form once he sets foot on the Tia Juana course. They declare that the Tia Juana climate will rejuvenate him, and that it is reasonable to expect that he will be a formidable contender in the big stakes at Tia Juana this Winter.

Owner Anderson sends the word that Carlaris is a sound as a dollar, but his training here will go along by easy stages. However, the colt should be ready for his first effort shortly after the Tia Juana season is opened, Thanksgiving Day. Some of the more optimistic expect Carlaris to be a starter in the Inaugural Handicap of opening day. Again will Carlaris be nominated for the Coffroth Handicap of the coming season. The Coffroth will be richer than ever with $75,000 added money and the winner's share will soar to at least $100,000. Thus the Coffroth retains its place as the richest race in the world for horses of all ages.

KINGSTON CLUB MEETING

The annual general meeting of the Kingston Street Lawn Tennis Club will be held next Monday night in the Y.M.C.A., at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of receiving the financial statement, election of officers and holding a general discussion on plans for 1927. All members are asked to attend.

Outlines Plans For National Golf Body To Meet Situation

Canada Should Organize Association With All Provinces Represented

So Thinks Secretary Who Has Just Completed Tour of "Inspection" of Canada

Toronto, Sept. 29.—"The time has come when we must put aside sentiment and tradition and come right out and face our geographical needs and meet them in order to have a truly national oraginzation," stated B. L. Anderson, secretary of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, on his return from a tour of Western Canada, during which he sounded out opinion on the formation of a Canadian National Golf Association.

"I believe this whole question," he said, "should now be put squarely up to the golfers of this country and the decision of the majority adopted and carried into effect at once."

Mr. Anderson found that western golfers favor a strong national association, but fail to see how it can be brought about. Answering their question he said that in the first place the association would have to be national in all its activities. Each provincial association would have to be a geographical section of the national association, so that no province would point to the association as some distant organization, too far away to be of interest.

HOW TO PAY ITS WAY

He believes that each provincial association should function as part of the national association, that the latter association should fix its budget at the beginning of the year and apportion the amount it needs for each province according to the number of golfers in the province, the provincial association to look after collecting this amount along with their own requirements. The green section service could be operated in the same manner.

Mr. Anderson thinks that the national association should be governed by a board made up of a representative from each province, this representative to be a member of the executive of the provincial association.

Each provincial association should be represented by two players in the national amateur championship, preferably the winner and runnerup in the provincial championship, Mr. Anderson thought.

He declared he had seen several very good courses in the West, quite up to the standard of championship requirements or which could easily be brought up to the standard.

Suzanne Causes no Excitement Landing In America on Tour

New York, Sept. 29.—Suzanne Lenglen, former women's world tennis champion, arrived to-day aboard the steamship Paris to enter the professional ranks.

Mlle. Lenglen attracted little attention when she landed to carry out contracts which will earn her a tidy fortune. She was met at quarantine by Harold "Red" Grange and C. C. Pyle, who is manager for both Grange and Mlle. Lenglen.

She readily admitted she had joined the ranks of professionalism to make money, explaining that, having exhausted the amateur ranks, she felt it was time she did something for herself.

Wilkinson, of the 112th Victoria High School Cadet Battalion, won the Confederation Life Association Cadet Challenge Cup for the best ten highest scores of the year on open ranges, with a score of 907 out of a possible 1,050. Wilkinson will hold the trophy for a year and receive a miniature cup.

Rivals Kept Idle; But Strategy Boards Sit

Pennock Likely to Pitch Opening Game for Yankees With Alexander on Mound for St. Louis; Shocker and Sherdel Will Be Second Bets for Chief Roles; New York Outfield Has Better Hitting Average Than the Cardinals; Two Regulars Injured and Will Not Be Able to Play

New York, Sept. 29.—Rain and cold weather kept the world's baseball championship contenders, the Yankees and the Cardinals, idle yesterday, but the rival field marshals, Miller Huggins and Rogers Hornsby, improved the interval by an intensive study of tactics and strategy.

The chief result of this "master minding" is the prospect that the opening game of the world's series on Saturday will develop a battle of lefthanders, probably between Herb Pennock, the willowy port-sider of the Yanks, and Willie Sherdel, of the St. Louis clan.

Pennock has been the most consistent of the Yanks flinging staff this season. Close observers favor his selection not only because of his ability as a "money pitcher," but also because he requires at least three days between games. By twirling the opener, he would be ready to come back quicker than if held for a later assignment.

Huggins indicated to-day he was virtually certain to pick a lefthander, which would confine his choice to Pennock or Dutch Ruether, among the regulars. The "midget manager," however, is also grooming Urban Shocker, spitball ace and a righthander, for early service. It is possible that Huggins may switch to Shocker as the opening hurling gun, but Urban is more likely to start the second game.

ALEXANDER TO START

Grover Cleveland Alexander, the veteran who helped the Cards in their winning drive after being "sold down the river" by the Chicago Cubs, will get the first game assignment, Hornsby indicated, if Sherdel is not selected. Alexander is in the same position as Shocker; he is very certain to pitch on Sunday if he doesn't start Saturday.

The loss of Bennie Bengough, star Yank catcher, who fractured a bone in his right forearm when hit by a pitched ball in the last Western trip, is a heavy blow to Huggins. Bengough is out of the series altogether, thus putting the catching burden upon Pat Collins and Hank Severeid, whose luck in being shifted has carried him into two straight championship conflicts. Last season Severeid went from St. Louis to Washington in time to share the series, catching work for the Senators with Muddy Ruel. He was obtained from Washington this season by the Yanks.

Huggins had decided to start Earl Combs, the fleet Kentuckian, at his regular post in centrefield, instead of Paschal, who alternated with Combs during a good part of the season.

Players of both team expect to put in snappy drills to-day

OUT OF SERIES

Both camps report the regulars in fine shape. Babe Ruth is confident that his ankle, turned in St. Louis, although still bandaged, will not interfere with his playing in the big games. The two real casualties of the squads, Benny Bengough, Yankee catcher, who has a broken arm, and Ray Blades, Cardinal outfielder, who injured his ankle a month ago, have no hope of taking part in the series, their respective managers have decided.

New York, Sept. 29.—Babe Ruth's huge bulk tips the scale in favor of the New York Yanks as the strength of the outfielders to play in the series is weighed.

St. Louis has no Ruth. The Yankee slugger, with forty-seven homeruns and a batting average of 368, has distanced the best effort of any Cardinal outfielder.

If Blades should join in the Cardinal outer defence, Manager Hornsby will offer three .300 hitters with Southworth and Douthit completing the trio. With the injured Blades probably not in the lineup, Hafey is expected to get the call, with Holm next in line. The five St. Louis outfielders, with Blades included, although a doubtful starter, have an average of .299.

YANKEES HIT HARDER

Ruth, Coombs and Meusel, the regular Yank outfield, with Paschal and Carlyle in reserve, boast an average of .313.

Ruth dominates the outfield talent involved. His batting average of .368 includes 47 homers, and he has scored 139 runs and stolen 12 bases. Ruth will also enter his seventh world series. Only in centre field can the Cards offer a stronger offence on paper than the Yanks. Douthit has hit .309 to .301 for Combs. Combs has scored an average in homers eight to three.

If Hafey goes to left for St. Louis, New York with Meusel in the opposition role will make a greater impression on the fact that, of the season's returns, Meusel has compiled a batting average of .318 and scored 69 runs, with 12 of the runs unaided through the medium of circuit smashes. He has stolen 18 bases. Hafey has a batting average of .270 with 30 runs scored, four homers and two stolen bases. He has played only 75 games.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Washington-Philadelphia doubleheader declared off; rain and cold.

TO TRY ANOTHER SWIM

Southend-on-Sea, Essex, Eng., Sept. 29.—Norman Derham, the Englishman, who on September 17 swam the English Channel, says he probably will attempt to swim from the Mull of Kintyre, Scotland, to Ireland. The distance is only thirteen miles, but the tides make it probable that Derham will have to cover many miles to get across.

ALMOST BROUGHT TWO WINNERS

WILLIAM WRIGLEY JR.

Famous chewing gum king and sportsman, whose Chicago Cubs and Los Angeles Angels have been highly successful this season. Los Angeles is an almost certain winner of the Pacific Coast League pennant, while the Cubs have been just about the biggest surprise club in the National circuit. For a time it appeared Wrigley would have the distinction of owning two flag winners in one campaign, but the Cubs found the pace a bit too hot.

Sport—Foley

Mrs. Hornsby, on Her Death-bed, Pulling For St. Louis Cards

Austin, Texas, Sept. 29.—Hope that she may live until after the world series baseball games is sustaining Mrs. M. D. Hornsby, mother of Rogers Hornsby, manager of the pennant winning St. Louis Cardinals, who will lead his club against the New York Yankees for the world title. Mrs. Hornsby is sixty-three years old and has been an invalid for eleven years.

Mrs. Hornsby is seriously ill at the home of her sister here following a relapse on Monday. Rogers is not expected to come here now on account of the imminence of the world series.

Mrs. Hornsby, who knows baseball thoroughly, has repeatedly expressed the hope that she may live through the series, which she confidently predicts her son's club will win.

Foley Battles For Feather Crown in Montreal To-night

Montreal, Sept. 29—Vic Foley, of Vancouver, and Silvio Myreault, of Montreal, will battle here to-night in the final of the elimination tournament for the right to challenge Leo (Kid) Roy for the featherweight championship of Canada. Indications are that the battle will be a hard one. Wagering on the result is about even, as both men have a good following in this city.

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, Sept. 28 (By R. P. Clark & Co.) — Mixed movements again in evidence due to higher call money rates, with some weak spots uncovered with market leaders in freer supply. Early firming tendencies of the rails attracted realizing, oils were heavy, and the industrials also took on a tired appearance.

News was featured by Teapot Dome Oil leases decision which were declared void and attracted heavy selling in Sinclair Oil and associated interest.

To-day's market seemed to reflect more distinctly the indication of heavy distribution being conducted and a farther lowering in values would not be surprising.

New York, Sept. 29 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wall Street Wire)—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says:

Stocks dragged through another day of uncertainty as a result of heavy requisitions for money in connection with October first settlements. Coming in conjunction with expanding demand for Autumn commercial and industrial requirements the funds needed for month-end transactions caused a heavy drain on credit available for speculative purposes.

Banks called approximately $15,000,000 loans and these withdrawals were responsible for considerable selling of stocks carried on margin. Consequently, price movements on the stock exchange were extremely nervous and some sharp breaks occurred in special issues like Warner Brothers, American Linseed, Ward Baking "B," Electric Refrigeration and West Indies. However, the professional drives made no great headway.

All things considered, not much was accomplished by those putting particular stress upon the credit situation as likely to bring about for the present apprehension regarding the possibility of a drastic break.

This state of mind was reflected in dribbles of liquidation for the account of light waisted speculators.

But the selling of this kind was absorbed without significance recessions in backbone stocks like Steel, General Motors, American Smelters and American Can.

For the most part, issues of this class showed good resistance, and their failure to give ground induced a covering movement in the late afternoon, creating a better tone in the general list.

The strong underlying tone appeared in the steel industry was again pictured by the weekly trade reviews. They stressed the importance of prospective railroad buying of rails and equipments, as well as the sustained high production and shipments of the mills.

"Nine months of remarkable demand have brought the steel industry to the final quarter of the year without perceptible diminuticn in stability of prospects," Trade Review said. "If there is any good basis for some recent reports of less sanguine expectations in industry, it is difficult to locate.

Consumption is keeping on a high plane which, in the absence of any considerable stock generally, is compelling current ordering in steady large volume. Mills under constant pressure are keeping production within recent high limits."

American Smelters displayed noteworthy strength, jumping 1⅞ to 140⅞ on the initial transaction. This advance was caused by buying stimulated by the expectation of an increase in the $7 dividend to an $8 basis, or the payment of a $1 extra at next Tuesday's meeting.

Time money against stock exchange collateral is firm but in comparatively light demand. Quoted 5½ per cent. for all dates. Commercial paper market continues essentially unchanged in all important respects from the past few weeks, with demand from buyers good and outstandings relatively light. Prime names 4½ per cent., other good names 4¾ and 5 per cent.

SUGAR PRICES RISE TO YEAR'S HIGH AS BUYERS SCRAMBLE

New York, Sept. 29.—A general increase in the price of refined sugar to six cents a pound, the highest level of this year, took place throughout the country to-day as refiners, pressed by a heavy retail demand, scrambled for supplies in the raw sugar market.

The advance, which amounts to nearly a cent above the low mark of the year, coincides with the peak of the canning season.

Raw sugar also commanded the highest price of the year—4.65 cents a pound after the payment of duty—with 350,000 bags of the Cuban product sold in the New York market, an unusually heavy turnover.

Virtually all the large New York refiners marked up the price of granulated sugar, and it was announced that Pacific Refiners, which drew upon the Philippines for their raw supplies, would put the six per cent. price into effect to-morrow.

The principal factor in the strength of the raw sugar market were said to be a heavy demand from Europe, where a smaller beet sugar crop is expected, and the Cuban restrictions against grinding until after January 1.

To-day's Mining Markets

Dunwell stock on Victoria and other exchanges is now being sold ex-rights, it was announced to-day to clear up misunderstanding that has existed. The stock to-day without the rights was sold on the exchange at around 114 and 115. In Vancouver same went through this morning at 117. Dunwell rights are selling around 13 cents each. It takes five of these rights to get the right to subscribe to one share of new Dunwell stock at 50 cents. This would make the new stock worth 115.

Source of the buying in Porter-Idaho in Vancouver is not known here, but there have been satisfactory reports from the north of high returns on the shipments of ore made by the Porter-Idaho mines this season.

Silversmith sells ex-dividend in a couple of days and is holding well above the 50 cent level in anticipation of that.

Heavy offerings of Malaspina appeared on the local market this morning, and a price break was threatened, but the issue between those bullish on this and those bearish was not forced for the time being.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—The wheat market continued to display strength to-day and though trade was not large, values were on the upgrade, staging a sharp rally near the close of the session.

The major part of the session was featureless, with prices holding steady and the light offerings being well absorbed. The news was inclined to be bearish, but this had no effect on trade and with "shorts" covering at Chicago, a late rally occurred.

Export trade was light again to-day. Closing prices were strong, 1¼ to 1¾ higher, with October at 139, November 138⅜, December 136 and May 140⅛.

Coarse grains remained quiet. Trade in cash grains was without any noticeable feature.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Winnipeg, Sept. 29 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Wheat: Market quiet with prices practically unchanged, but Chicago developed strength late in the day, finally forcing Winnipeg to follow on spreading business, and causing local shorts to cover. Final figures were around the top, showing gains of ¼ to ⅝ cents. The only selling throughout the day was coming from elevator companies who were hedging in the October and buying May, the late months showing more strength. Little evidence of export sales, but some close pit observers stated that foreigners were buying futures.

Weather in Canadian West has continued fine with warmer temperatures, but a few light showers were reported in western Saskatchewan and Alberta. The forecast is favorable. Deliveries of wheat by farmers on Tuesday were 2,692,767 bushels, and the loading out 1,646 cars of wheat and 235 of coarse grains. There were 1,294 cars of wheat on the inspection sheet this afternoon. There was a fair cash demand for the contract grades, but offerings were liberal and spreads declined ⅛ cent.

Coarse garins: These markets were very quiet with little going on. Early prices were a little easier, but firmed up in sympathy with the strength in wheat and closed higher.

Flax: Featureless market, nothing doing, final figures ⅛ to ⅜c. higher, in sympathy with the advance in the general market.

Winnipeg, Sept. 29 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's direct pit wire)—Wheat opened steady and held up close to previous day's figures throughout the first half of the session with market extremely quiet and trade confined to locals.

Late in the session there was a sharp upturn in sympathy with strength in Chicago where prominent Eastern interests were buyers. The market closed firm at top figures, with local shorts the best buyers. There was also fair amount of purchases against sales in Chicago by spreaders.

A good class of selling developed on the upturns, some of which was credited to houses with Continental connections. There was little in the news to warrant the upturn.

Foreign demand continues indifferent and the seaboard estimated acceptances at 300,000 which included the 160,000 durum to Italy.

The weather in Western Canada continues favorable, although there was light rains in Alberta yesterday. The forecast was for mostly fair to-day and Thursday with some local showers.

CALGARY OILS
(By R. P. Clark & Co. Limited)

Ills. Alta. drillers made another foot in the limestone yesterday. Gas pressure is so great and the limestone so much cracked that they have decided to drill with a solid bit, which will not make a core but drill much faster. Vulcan drillers were engaged in erecting storage tanks at the derrick side. McLeod drillers are now three feet past the top of the lost bit in the limestone.

New York, Sept. 29.—Prices were unchanged in the raw sugar market to-day, but as no sales were reported the price remained unchanged at 4.65 for Cuban, duty paid. Refined sugar was unchanged at 5.90 to 6.00 cents for fine granulated.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 29 (By R. P. Clark and Company).—Wheat met active absorption on the early dip, and rallied late in the day. Buying broadened and prices moved up through the offers to best price in some time. Action of the pit suggested that shorts were on the run. Houses with eastern connections were among the most aggressive buyers. The foreign demand for wheat picked up a little, sales overnight totalling 400,000 bushels.

Foreign news regarding crops in various countries also was less favorable and attracted attention. Milling demand remained fairly active and premiums locally were steady to firm. Marketings of wheat in the Canadian Northwest are moderate and substantially below those of a year ago. Weather conditions in Canada are said to be some better, with threshing renewed.

Stocks at Minneapolis for four days showed an increase of 400,000 bushels. Charters were made here for 275,000 to Montreal at 11c. Considerable comment is heard over the delay in Winter wheat seeding prove quite a factor presently. The market is acting healthy and we believe is headed for better prices, all purchases should be confined to setbacks.

Chicago, Sept. 29 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Pit Wire)—Wheat was lower early on scattered selling, but firmed up rapidly when buying orders appeared. Surplus was gradually taken off the market. There was little change in the general run of news.

Export demand reported slow with sales all positions around 400,000. Near the close prices advanced rapidly with general commission house buying. Foreign crop news little more favorable for holders.

An oversold condition was disclosed in the corn when local professionals started to buy and started shorts to cover. Prices broke early, but there was a rapid advance later. Oats were influenced by the action of other grains.

Montreal Stocks

Montreal, Sept. 29 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wire)—Noon stock letter: After a short period of rest the public utilities have again assumed the leadership of the local market. This morning two issues of this department sold up to new high prices. These were Shawin, which gained two points, selling up to 226⅞, and Quebec Power, which advanced 1½ points more to its already spectacular advance from 162 to 164.

Brazilian Traction attracted a good amount of attention, but at the close showed a point reaction at 118⅛. Montreal Power was also heavy, closing sales indicating a decline of halfg at 72. Shawinigan rights followed the trail of the stock and touched a new high at 73.

Steamships preferred had a small turnover and eased off half point. Pulp and paper stocks showed a tendency to sag a little. Abitibi from high of 94½ shortly after the opening receded to 94. Laurentide sold up to 109⅛, but dropped to 108 at the close.

Brompton followed the general rule and declined half to 37¼. Only one small lot of Wayagamack was traded in at 98. Canadian Industrial Alcohol displayed the most activity among the specialties, but after rallying to 23 it reacted to 22¾. Smelters from a previous close of 244 sold off to 241⅛, but towards the close rallied to 242½. Asbestos issues showed little change, common changing hands at 21⅝ and the preferred at 78 to 77⅝.

NEW SERIAL STORY

"The Unwilling Adventuress"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

Trailing behind her, as she strode purposefully into the waiting room, was an oddly contrasting pair. The young woman, scarcely more than a girl, was togged out like a fashion plate—satiny broadcloth, Paris toque, and sables, glistening, white kid gloves. Her companion, who propelled her along with a proprietary hand on her elbow, was rotund, pink, and inclined to baldishness. Nevertheless he had an air of distinction and wore his perfectly cut clothes with an ease of which the girl was incapable.

"It's too tiresome," the girl was protesting in an affected voice. "We'll be sure to miss the Chicago train and that means we won't get to New York in time for Chrisimas. And I'd counted so on spending our first Christmas in our new home!"

"I know, honey," the big man assured her fondly. "But you wouldn't want to go away and leave poor Miss Elsie to straighten out this tangle about the baby all by herself. There'll be a lot of red tape if it proves to be the right child, and I rather think she'll need me to help her."

"I wish we'd never stopped off from our honeymoon to see her," muttered the girl petulantly. "Heaven, how glad I'll be to get away forever from that beastly little town. As a matter of fact," she added with a brilliant smile which made her companion beam, "I only came back to make the other girls mad with envy when they saw my clothes."

He squeezed her arm and just then, the grey-clad woman who had preceded them into the station, returned after a brief talk with the Travelers' Aid representative.

"It's the right baby," she said. "I showed the woman the snapshot of Elaine's child and she identified it immediately. Now I have to go to the police station and the place where they have the baby."

"I'll accompany you, Miss Elsie," the man offered promptly. He glanced wistfully at his bride.

She plumped herself down on a waiting bench, after she had tested its surface gingerly with her gloved finger.

"I'll wait here," she announced with hauteur. "And for Heaven's sake—hurry!"

"It's mighty nice of you to come along," Miss Elsie said to the man as their taxi sped toward the station house. "Camilla's kind of put out, I'm afraid."

The man waved aside her thanks.

"Now, Miss Elsie, why shouldn't I give you all the assistance I can? I'm your cousin by marriage, now, and this little lady we're going to claim is my cousin too."

"That's so," agreed the other thoughtfully. "But it's a pretty distant relationship. You see, Mr. Fielding—Edward—" she corrected as he lifted an admonitory finger. "Camilla and my niece, Elaine, who's just died, were cousins, but they never were very friendly. Elaine went to Europe to study when she was just a young girl. After she'd become an opera star—she was known as Elaine Vanessa—she never had time to come back for a visit. I missed her dreadfully. She was the apple of my eye. If only she hadn't married that Mackay—!"

"The beast!" Fielding clenched his plump fist. "Fancy being low enough to desert his only child in a public railway station when his wife's scarcely cold in her grave."

Miss Elsie made no comment. After a minute, she said quietly:

"If it hadn't been for his trunks coming, and my seeing the piece in the paper about the lost baby, my poor Elaine's daughter might have become a foundling. Le—that Mackay—had written me that he was bringing the baby to me for Christmas, so I was sort of on the lookout."

"You've never seen her?"

She shook her head.

"Nor him either. And I'm not likely to, now."

He laid a plump, sympathetic hand over her shabbily gloved ones.

"You'll let me help you with the bringing up of the baby?"

"Maybe, later." She smiled a far-away look in her eyes. "I have enough money for now. But later—I want her to be a singer like her mother."

He shook his head sadly.

"You'll make a sacrifice and you'll lose her in the end."

"Maybe," she agreed quietly.

CHAPTER II

Fifteen years had passed since Miss Elsie Young of Drayburg, had brought from the Foundlings Home at Weyburn, the tiny waif who was her grand-niece.

Her arrival with the child, and without explanations—for Miss Elsie was not the type of woman who gives an account of her actions to her fellowmen and women—had caused a nine-day sensation in the peaceful, little town with its quiet, elm-bordered sidewalks and its neat, orderly lawns. Lamps in sitting-rooms all over the village burned late, while neighbor popped in upon neighbor to discuss the event which had brought into their midst a new inhabitant, under such mysterious circumstances.

Miss Elsie's ward, whom she named Doris, lived and flourished and grew lovelier day by day.

When the child was still in her early teens, the hopes of her great-aunt seemed in a fair way to being justified. The girl had inherited her mother's talent. She had a voice like a lark, clear as crystal, melodious as a purling brook.

Miss Elsie, who wouldn't take "no" for an answer when she'd made up her mind to something, persuaded old Otto Weber to take Doris for a pupil.

The old German had once been a great master in the musical centres of the world—Berlin, Vienna, Budapest and Rome. Many a golden voice that thrilled audiences from the operatic stage had been trained by him in the days of his prime when singers came from all over the world to plead for his instruction. No one quite knew how he happened to come to Drayburg. He had been in America at the outbreak of the war, and when it was ended, he had lost heart, since the old Germany was gone and many of his kindred and friends had been killed.

So he remained in the picturesque, little, mid-western town and pottered around his garden, wearing shabby, old, velveteen jackets, and smoking a vile pipe. He took Miss Elsie's niece grumblingly—until he heard her sing!

Then the old fire flashed in his dim eyes. He trembled with emotion as he said.

"You will be great some day. Vot a voice! You have a wonderful voice."

She was scarcely more than a child, then, with skirts just covering her knees and silvery-gilt braids swinging down her back.

"Some day," he went on, puffing on his terrible pipe—the lesson was just finished and she was slipping her music into its neat leather case, "some day, people will come to hear you sing in great opera houses of Paris and Vienna and Milan. Ach, do I not know Haf I not seen In your own New York vundst, have I not mit my own eyes seen 10,000 people standing in der rain vaiting to hear your own mutter sing 'Mignonne?'"

Elaine Vanessa's daughter shook back her shining braids.

"I don't want to be an opera singer," she said simply.

"Vat a 'Marguerite' you vill ve!" muttered the old man. "Why don't you vant to sing, my little one?"

"I want to get married when I grow up and have a house and thirteen children," the girl said solemnly.

The old German took the pipe from his mouth and roared with laughter. Doris flushed, but held her ground.

"I do!" she insisted.

He patted her blonde head.

"Vell spoken, my child—like a real voman. But marriage is not for you. You haf the divine spark. It vill burn you—maybe destroy you—but it vill rule you. You vill make any sacrifice."

On her nineteenth birthday, Miss Elsie told Doris her plans for the future.

"Next Winter," she said, "I have arranged for you to go to New York to study. You will stay with your cousins, Camilla and Henry Fielding. They were with me the day I went to Weyburn to get you."

"Aunt Elsie," Doris lifted her green eyes to the older woman's face, "tell me, did you never hear anything further about—my father?"

"Never!" the thin lips set tightly.

"I suppose," mused Doris, "that he got killed somehow."

"If he did," said the aunt laconically, "he succeeded in destroying his body. Nothing was ever found."

"Perhaps," said Doris, only half aloud. "I reminded him of my mother and he couldn't bear to look at me."

"You're like Elaine." "Miss Elsie studied the curve of the half-averted cheek. "A good deal like her. You also resemble your cousin Camilla Fielding—the one I've just mentioned."

Doris laughed ruefully.

"My looks can't be very indivdual if I share them with so many people."

Her aunt was silent. She didn't believe in encouraging vanity; moreover, she had a suspicion that the little minx knew just how pretty she was.

For more than two years, Miss Elsie's veranda had been cluttered during Summer evenings with admiring, husky-voiced youths. She had watched them with sharp eyes. She had no mind to permit Doris's career to be nipped in the bud by a puppy love affair.

But, for all her watchfulness, Doris precipitated a sensation in August of her nineteenth year—the first of a long series of sensations in a career considerably sprinkled with excitement.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Bunch of Beets

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis).

"Do you know what you are going to do to-day, Uncle Wiggily?" asked his lady rabbit wife one morning.

"Yes, yes, I think so," replied the bunny, playfully twinkling his pink nose upside down to show how jolly he felt. "I am going to look for adventures, as I always do."

"And you are also, if you will be so kind, going to get me a bunch of beets," said the rabbit lady, slyly giving her husband a dig in the ribs so he could laugh out loud. "I need a bunch of beets, as we are going to have company for tea."

"I shall get the beets after I finish looking for an adventure," replied Mr. Longears, and so he hopped out of his hollow stump bungalow and was soon traveling over the fields and through the woods.

All of a sudden Uncle Wiggily heard from the bushes a cry of surprise and a voice shouted:

"Help! Help! O, please stop it! You are shooting my house all to pieces!"

"Ah! I think I am on the track of an adventure," whispered the rabbit uncle. "Some of the bad chaps are shooting a friend of mine. I will arrest them."

But when he looked through the bushes he saw only a spider lady, clinging to her cobweb, which was shaped round, something like a cart wheel. And, standing on a log, not far away, were two little Squiggle bugs, shooting with arrows from their bows at the spider lady's web.

"Ho, little Squiggliers! You shouldn't do that!" chided Mr. Longears.

"O, but please, Uncle Wiggily," buzzed the small Squiggler, "the cobweb makes such a dandy bullseye target to shoot at!"

"We just can't help whizzing arrows at it," buzzed the big Squiggler.

"No matter!" said Uncle Wiggily serious-like. "A house is a home, even if it is only a cobweb for a spider lady. Here, I'll set up for you another target at which you may shoot." With his pencil Uncle Wiggily made a black circle on a piece of white birch bark, and then he drew rings around the circle making a regular bullseye, and the Squiggle bugs shot their arrows at that.

"Thank goodness you came along in time!" sighed Mrs. Spider, as she set to work to spin new strangs of filmy thread to mend her web where the bugs' arrows had gone through. "Thank you, Uncle Wiggily."

"Pray do not mention it," begged the bunny, though he hopped on, not a little pleased with himself, and soon he went to a farm and bought a bunch of beets for his wife to cook and serve to the company.

But on his way home with the bunch of beets, Uncle Wiggily saw Jollie Longtail, the mouse boy, with Squeakie Eeekie, the cousin mouse, looking very sad.

"What's the matter?" asked the rabbit gentlemen.

"We want to play football but we have none to play with," said Jollie, nibbling a hard piece of cheese he took from his pocket.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I think one of my beets will make a good football for mice." So the bunny chewed the green tops of his bunch of beets, and gave one of them to Jollie, stuffing the green leaves back into his pocket. "My wife will use those for greens," said Uncle Wiggily, as the mice kicked the beet football.

Then he hopped on and pretty soon he saw Mrs. Moo, the cow lady, and she was looking very sad. She said she was hungry.

"Here, take the rest of my beets!" offered the bunny and he gave them to Mrs. Moo, hopping away before she could thank him.

Next Uncle Wiggily met Aunt Lettie, the goat, and she bleated.

"Oh, where can I get some greens for Uncle Butter? He is ill and Dr. Possum says he must have some greens."

"Here you are!" creid Uncle Wiggily, and he gave the lady goat the green beet tops from his pocket, hopping on before she could thank him. And when Uncle Wiggily reached his bungalow, he had no bunch of beets for his wife. He started to tell what had happened but she laughed and said:

"Ha! Ha! made a mistake! I didn't mean beets at all! I meant carrots! So Uncle Wiggily hopped back to the farm and got a bunch of carrots, and nothing happened to them, so the company had something to eat.

So this teaches us that sometimes mistakes turn out happily. And if the gold fish doesn't splash water in the rag doll's eye and make her think it is snowing, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's tail light.

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

"The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel"

(Copyright)

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1926

This is a day rarely fortunate, according to astrology which reads Venus, the Sun, Jupiter and Neptune in benefic aspect.

After a long period when they appeared to be subject to malefic planetary aspects, so far as public work is concerned, women now come under a stimulating and helpful planetary direction.

Changes in the trend of women's club work are indicated and it is probably that even the most literary organizations will find civic work to do.

This should be a lucky wedding day, making for prosperity and congeniality. Divorce is not presaged in to-day's marriages.

Persons in the Sun should be kindly and helpful under this sway and for that reason promoters, political and financial, should benefit.

It is a lucky day to seek a position or a patron. Employment of any sort should be easy to attain when the stars are posited as they are to-day.

Jupiter encourages business big and small under this direction of the stars which is supposed to aid commercial enterprises.

There is an auspicious rule to-day for judges, governors and educators. Schools and colleges should benefit.

Strict attention to work will be more prevalent than in the past, if the stars are rightly interpreted. This applies to students as well as to employees of every sort.

Prison laws and police discipline will engross attention in many states and sensational disclosures again are foretold.

November may bring to New York City heavy storms and exciting events, according to an Englis astrologer, who foresees in the lunation of that month menacing signs.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of much wealth, or prosperity in the coming year.

Children born on this day have a fortunate nativity. They should prosper always and life should bring them many good gifts.

Intelligence Test

The questions listed below are easy to answer. In working this test, use a piece of paper and time yourself. Try them on your friends, as a game. The correct answers will be printed to-morrow.

3. How many hoofs were there on the horses of the Three Musketeers?
4. What historical warrior's name is found in the letters: DNXALRAEE?
5. What Latin words are used to express the meaning "in the opposite case"?
6. What is eight raised to the third power?
7. Name the days of the week backwards.
8. How many letters are there in the full name of the president of the United States without his title?
9. What is two-thirds of three?
10. Two autos leave a point at the same time for a city 30 miles distant. One auto averages 30 miles an hour and does not stop. The other averages 40 miles an hour running time, but is forced to stop 10 minutes. Which auto gets to the city first?

These are the answers to the questions appearing on page
1—Gloria Swanson.

New York, Sept. 29.—Canadian Pacific net earnings for August were $4,305,375, against $4,181,781 in August, 1925. Total for first eight months of this year $22,183,198, against $15,368,301 for corresponding period of last year.

New York, Sept. 29.—"Purchases should be confined to high-grade issues," Block Maloney say to-day.

"We think that there is more distribution than accumulation in progress and feel that although day to day trading on the surface may seem meaningless and confused, many long lines of stocks are gradually being sold, and that such sellers are not re-entering the market but ar estanding aside for the present at least," Bliss of Housman-Gwathemey says to-day. "Naturally most of this selling, we think, is in the industrial section, and more general in those stocks whose earnings are not so good."

New York, Sept. 29.—Warner Bros. Inc. contracts for exclusive services of Victor Talking Machine Co. artists.

PRACTICAL PLAN FOR PORT DEVELOPMENT PLACED BEFORE CITY COUNCIL THIS MORNING

In recent times Mr. Pinneo identified himself closely with the building up of Astoria, and he is officially credited with starting the development there that turned a loss on port debentures into a decided gain, and paved the way for the growth of that port to one of considerable importance on the Pacific seaboard.

CITY HAS ADVANTAGES

Disclaiming any abnormal powers, Mr. Pinneo gave his definition of an expert as "an ordinary man away from his home." What success he had attained in transportation fields, he said, had come from an examination on the ground and the determination of some special line of endeavor to promote. Once this was known it was easy to find the right men and to get their business. His preliminary survey of Victoria, he continued, had encouraged him to the belief that this city had a very definite advantage over other centres by reason of its position. A complete survey, he felt sure, would reveal practical steps that could be taken to make use of the facilities now here and relatively unused.

In his Astoria work he had been in receipt of a high yearly salary, but for the purpose of the present occasion he would be content if interests wishing his services would guarantee the amount of his regular retainer with the Pacific Steamship Company and such expenses as might be necessary in the active progress of his survey. A sum in the neighborhood of $3,000 this year would be sufficient to cover a great deal of the ground, it was intimated.

WITH SEATTLE HARBOR BOARD

In introducing Mr. Pinneo to the meeting, C. P. W. Schwengers, president of the Chamber of Commerce, recalled that Mr. Pinneo had been successively superintendent of the Seattle Harbor Board, and for five years manager of the Port of Astoria. His last work had been a special survey of conditions at Ketchikan, undertaken on behalf of the Pacific Steamship Company, of which firm he was special representative held on retainer.

"At the present time I am not prepared to say what you can do and what you cannot do in Victoria," said Mr. Pinneo. "I am here as a representative of Mr. Alexander, at the invitation of His Worship the Mayor and the Chamber of Commerce. I have just returned from a special survey at Ketchikan, and was told of the Victoria proposals only recently.

SHIPPING FOR PROSPERITY

"I may say that I have no desire to be taken off the payroll of the Pacific Steamship Company, for that is my real work. In regard to opportunities for advancement here I may take it you are all familiar with the necessity of bringing shipping for prosperity. On the face of it it looks to me you are neglecting your duty if you do not do something to get into the shipping game.

"You have great opportunities here with the West Coast fisheries at your door. There is a big opportunity in the possibility of a freezing plant for the fish, the handling of the products of the plants on your coast, and all that business can be made profitable here. It means payrolls and new business in its wake. Let me say I am not much of a talker and would prefer to say what I think after I have gone over the ground and made my report.

ALDERMEN SUPPORT

It was not often that a city was offered such a unique opportunity to examine itself and create active means of growth, said Alderman H. C. Holmes, in urging early council decision on the question.

It was quite obvious that the first step was a survey of existing facilities and investigation into new lines of trade, said David Leeming. A start on the project without public opinion behind the move would endanger its success, interposed Acting Mayor Marchant. "If we believe this is the right course we have no need to fear public opinion," stated Alderman J. B. Clearihue, urging council action without undue delay.

IN FAVOR OF SURVEY

J. O. Cameron expressed himself as heartily in favor of the plan. A black and white report on what could be done was the foundation of any growth that could be expected here, and that foundation could not be laid too soon, he asserted.

If the city wanted business and a return on the investments of public money in port facilities it would have to go after it, said George McGregor. Progress could be made if people had the will to go after it, and to stick to their convictions, he concluded.

He would like to see the movement go ahead and without delay, stated R. W. Mayhew, instancing what had been done in other centres and was equally possible here. Experienced advice, he thought, was the keynote of any development, and the city should close with Mr. Pinneo without delay. Others spoke along the same lines, disclosing an unanimous body of opinion in favor of the independent survey of port facilities.

Present at the meeting on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce were C. P. W. Schwengers, R. H. B. Ker, David Leeming, J. O. Cameron, Edwin Tomlin, G. I. Warren, A. J. Watson, George McGregor, R. A. Mayhew, Mark W. Graham, B. C. Nicholas, James Tait, A. E. Todd, and many others.

On behalf of the Council, Acting Mayor Marchant took the chair, supported by Alderman H. C. Holmes, P. R. Brown, John Harvey, J. A. Mara, W. H. Culin, J. A. Shanks, and J. B. Clearihue. Mayor Pendray, attending the Edmonton convention of the Good Roads League was not present, but before he left the city last week expressed himself as much impressed with the proposals of the Chamber of Commerce and heartily in support of the engagement of Mr. Pinneo for an early start on the survey. After the meeting to-day members of the council wired His Worship, and expect an answer in time for the council session Friday. That the City will definitely enter into negotiations with Mr. Pinneo was freely predicted after the meeting this morning. Not only was unqualified support of the plan shown at the session, but it was stated that public approval would be general in support of such a move at this time.

The fault lay with the lack of presentable material to induce capital to bring its enterprises to Victoria, said Mr. Schwengers. For there was no one but Victoria's own business men to impress those ready to invest in financially promising fields.

VALUABLE MAN

With a view to bringing the potential possibilities of Victoria before capitalists of America, Mr. Schwengers said, he had considered attempting to secure the services of Roger Pinneo, Seattle port development expert, whose experience and reputation made his opinions of immense value.

"If Mr. Pinneo will take his coat of," said Mr. Schwengers, "and after investigation assert that Victoria has a justifiable hope for commercial advancement, it would mean much for Victoria. If he tells us there is no hope for great progress along the lines which we have hoped to follow, then it would be well for us to drop our campaign of port development."

Mr. Schwengers urged that the Real Estate Board add its voice to the demand that Mr. Pinneo be engaged to investigate possibilities of development.

Alfred Carmichael immediately rose to support Mr. Schwengers' suggestion. It was time, he said, that Victoria awoke to its opportunity, bring what capital it could here, and seize upon what rightfully belonged to it in the field of commercial endeavor. Mr. Carmichael moved that the City Council be urged to engage Mr. Pinneo in the work of investigating commercial possibilities here.

Beaumont Boggs was quick to second the motion, asserting that there was additional value in such an appointment as that recommended, in that all work would be carried out privately, quietly and with speed.

The resolution was passed by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Pienno, who was present at the meeting, declined to speak, declaring that he had nothing to say to the board at the present time.

MEIGHEN ASKED TO LEAD B.C. PARTY

is the largest gift in the power of British Columbia Conservatives to bestow.'

To the suggestion such an offer might be misconstrued, and that it would not be fitting that the former Premier of Canada should enter into a more restricted public field, the answer is made by those who are fostering the idea that, on the contrary, it would be the highest compliment British Columbia Conservatives could pay their retiring national chief.

"'It would indeed be a wonderful thing for British Columbia if such a statesman as Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, one of the brightest minds in our history, should become Premier of this, the banner Province of Canada,' was the opinion expressed by Leon J. Ladner, M.P.-elect for Vancouver South, who added British Columbia had been loyal to Mr. Meighen and had only a few days ago given him proof of the high esteem in which he and his statesmanship was held.

CLARK'S OPINION

"Brigadier-General J. A. Clark, M.P.-elect for Burrard, declared that if it were possible to have Mr. Meighen accept the highest office the Conservatives of the Province could give he would be '100 per cent. for it.' Mr. Meighen, he said, was the greatest parliamentarian Canada had ever known. He was a man of "great vision, honest and true," and he would be a priceless acquisition, not only to the party as leader but to British Columbia as a whole as its Premier.

J. B. THOMSON'S OPINION

J. B. Thomson, prominent in Conservative circles and one of the leading business men of the city, was of the opinion no greater compliment could be offered Mr. Meighen than to proffer to him the leadership of the Conservatives of British Columbia. He was also emphatic in his declaration that if he could be induced to accept the office British Columbia would gain tremendously.

RECESS CALLED IN McPHERSON TRIAL

ator at the Angelus Temple, spent ten days with a begoggled woman whom he has designated as "Miss X," and whom the state contends was Mrs. McPherson. Mrs. Sielaff is the confessed perpetrator of a hoax to produce a masquerader for the role of "Miss X."

HANDWRITING TESTIMONY

That District Attorney Asa Keyes intended to begin the introduction of documentary evidence to support the state's charges that Mrs. McPherson was the woman who shared the Carmel cottage with Ormiston was indicated when the prosecutor instructed Milton Carlson, handwriting expert, to be prepared to take the witness stand to-day. Carlson will be called to give testimony regarding the handwriting on two grocery slips found in the Carmel cottage.

ORMISTON LETTER

Ormiston plans another move in an effort to clear the evangelist in the Carmel episode, according to a letter purporting to come from him, received by Roland Rich Woolley, attorney for Mrs. McPherson.

The radio man, in the letter, which was forwarded through the agency of Edward H. S. Martin, his Chicago attorney, and was signed on a typewriter, says Ormiston will reveal the mysterious "Miss X" who occupied the cottage with him for ten days, beginning May 19 last. Ormiston writes that a new affidavit to be sent the Los Angeles attorney will detail the radio operator's movements from May 19 to June 23, and the movements of "Miss X" prior to May 1 and after May 29 so far as they are known to Ormiston.

The letter was postmarked Chicago and, although necessarily sent several days ago, was dated September 28.

PANTHER VICTIM OF YOUNG HUNTER

Fred Craig, of Craig's Crossing, shot and killed his first cougar on Wednesday last while hunting near his home, according to a report from Parksville. His dog scented the animal and led the hunter on its trail. It was not until his father, Fred Craig Sr., had heard the barking of his son's dog and had returned home for a cougar dog, that the roving slayer of the woods was treed and shot. The animal measured 7 feet 4 inches.
